

Complaints of Bicyclists Riding On Sidewalks Heard By Council

Chief of Police Instructed To Enforce Bylaw—Council To Interview Dr. Berry

Complaints of boy and girl cyclists using the village sidewalks as thoroughfares were heard by members of Council at the regular monthly meeting held in the Council Chambers on Tuesday night. Reeve R. K. West was in the chair and Councillors C. A. Wells, J. V. Holt, K. Ray and J. Wright were in attendance. It was pointed out that there was a bylaw covering such infractions and on motion of Councillors Wells and Holt the Chief of Police was notified to enforce the bylaw and the publication of a warning notice in the local paper was authorized.

The matter of having the dispersal point for daily papers to carrier boys moved from Mill St. to the lot at the south west of the centre bridge was also discussed.

Numerous complaints have been received that the paper boys block the sidewalk on Mill St. and leave papers lying around creating an unsightly street. Council will provide a suitable platform on the lot for the convenience of the paper boys, with the arrangements for the same left in the hands of Councillor J. V. Holt.

The Clerk was instructed to notify the Toronto Star and Telegram and the Ontario-Intelligencer that on and after September 17th their papers were to be left at the lot, just west of Stirling Motor sales.

Councillor Wells reported that he was experiencing difficulty in getting a local painter to redecorate the Clerk's office at present. The Clerk was authorized to engage some one to wash the walls and ceiling and the painting would be done later.

Councillor Holt stated that Rawdon Township were having gravel crushed in the near future and he had been assured that they would put gravel on and of the village streets for $1.00 per yard. He thought this was a good offer and Council should avail themselves of the opportunity of not only putting some on the streets but stockpiling a considerable quantity for future use. The matter was left in the hands of the streets committee to decide on whatever action was to be taken.

To Interview Dr. A. E. Berry

The sewerage question was again discussed at some length and on motion of Councillors Holt and Wright the Clerk was instructed to arrange for an interview with Dr. A. E. Berry, general manager of the Ontario Water Resources Commission on Monday next, at Toronto. Several members of Council will attend and the sewerage question for the village will be fully discussed.

Theatre To Open

Councillor C. A. Wells stated the theatre would be opened September 14th and 15th and plans were under way to increase the attendance through a co-operative scheme with

Rawdon Charge Vacation School Held At Mount Pleasant Recently

(By Mrs. Percy MacMullen)
(Held Over From Last Week)

Rawdon Charge Bible Vacation School was held at Mount Pleasant Church Hall from Monday to Friday in the forenoon last week with "Open House" for the older folk on Friday evening, August 24th. The Church Hall had a capacity audience with approximately 100 children in attendance. Long tables the length of the East and West walls held the displays of paper work, leather, aluminum, felt, clay modelling, sewing, woodwork and Bible scrap books. Bouquets of lovely autumn blooms were used as decoration.

The worship centre was based on the vacation theme, "We Would See Jesus."

The Pastor, Rev. W. G. Fletcher, welcomed the guests at 8.20 p.m. and all sang "O Canada." The music for the school was under the capable direction of Miss Betty McConnell and the mothers were loud in their praise as she taught each group hymns and songs.

Programme

Sixty children from primary to intermediate were massed on the platform and sang four selections, "At Work Beside His Father's Bench," "Come Children, Come and Sing," "We Are His Disciples" and "Climb Up Sunshine Mountain You and I."

Each of the four groups presented their part of the programme.

Thirty small tots, members of the nursery and kindergarten group, under the leadership of Mrs. Jack Dunham and Mrs. Raymond McConnell, delighted with cute motion songs which included "Here I Am How Do You Do." Mrs. Raymond McConnell stated the registration was 34 and 36 had perfect attendance. Each child then received their vacation school certificate of merit.

The primary group under the leadership of Mrs. W. G. Fletcher and Mrs. John Mulhern, dramatized "The Parable of the Good Samaritan," after which they sang "Friend of Jesus." This group had a registration of 18 and 16 had perfect attendance.

At this point Rev. W. G. Fletcher spoke briefly of this fourth Vacation School which was instituted in 1953 by Rev. and Mrs. R. R. Bonsteel. The daily registrations ran from 63 to 95 with an average attendance of 89 and the registration fees were $22.50.

The daily offering of the children will be forwarded to the Ontario Religious Council and will be used through the World Council of Churches to assist two medical colleges in India who are working to help the partially blind children, and if possible improve their vision. The silver collection was gathered by Allen Fletcher and Ross Carlisle.

Thirty-three juniors, under the leadership of Mrs. Ross Jeffs and Mrs. Herbert Smith presented a story in song with four children dressed to represent the black, white, brown and yellow children of the world. They sang "We Must Go with the Gospel of Christ." This group had an enrollment of 33 and an average attendance of 30. At this time the leaders presented the certificates.

The intermediate group, under the leadership of Mrs. Burton Morton and Mrs. Don Johnson, presented a Bible story depicting "Jesus of Nazareth."

There were eleven registered and 10 had perfect attendance. In the hand work of this group three lovely worship panels were made and these will be given to each of the three Sunday Schools on Rawdon Charge, and the Mission Bands will also be able to use them.

An ovation was given to all the leaders of the various departments and the programme closed with "Sing Your Way Home at the Close of the Day" and the benediction.

Children at the school besides those who reside on Rawdon Circuit, came from Hoard's, Carmel, St. Paul's Stirling, Eggleton, River Valley, Springbrook and Marmora. Three of the assistant helpers were from Detlor, Stirling and Carmel. 445 children attended the five-day school and there were approximately 25 leaders and assistants daily.

The kindergarten and nursery group convened in the church basement and each of the 34 children had a full quota of hand-made articles to carry home. If they were absent the assistants made the articles. They had a lovely collection made from paper flower plaques, painted and decorated jars. On Friday morning this group was treated to a delightful tea party. Each child had a unique display card made from powder puffs. Among those who assisted the two leaders were Mrs. Frank Spencer Jr., Mrs. Irvine Potts, Mrs. Byron Seeley, Mrs. Harvey Couch, Mrs. Doug Campbell, Mrs. Harry McAdam, Mrs. Stanley Williams, Misses Ina Scott, Marilyn McConnell, Adeline Bush, Yvonne King, Ellen Trennear, Janet Tompkins and others.

The primary group was stationed in the hall basement. They enjoyed finger painting, making novelty place cards, individual Bible story scrap books, felt work and sewing. The leaders were assisted by Mrs. Francis

Reid, Mrs. Ken Tompkins, Mrs. Earl McAdam, Mrs. W. N. Heath, Mrs. Don Thompson, Misses Catharine Turfitt, Donald Heath, Raye David, Gail Jeffs, Marion Reid and others.

The junior group convened in the church hall. They made paper weights, felt pennants, leather comb cases, two articles of spatter painting, modelled and painted various figures and they fashioned a miniature Bible map which they were asked to wear on their lapel on Friday evening. The assistants were Miss Annie Dracup, Mrs. Archie Bailey, Mrs. Burton Sharpe and Mrs. Percy MacMullen.

The intermediates convened in the church for their Bible work and singing. They made some excellent Bible scrap books. The two assistants were Mrs. Jim Pollock and Mrs. Carleton Potts. The woodwork and other crafts were carried on in the church hall under the leadership of Mrs. Francis Wrightman and Mrs. Kenneth Weaver. The boys did a nice assortment of woodwork articles and leather key cases. The girls made aluminum etched pin trees and various articles of sewing.

Rev. W. G. Fletcher showed interesting film strips, one of which was entitled, "The Boyhood of Jesus." He also conducted the closing worship each day which featured "Sing Your Way Home."

The forenoon was divided into worship with Bible story and hymns, offering, films, craftwork, singing and games. The school was most successful and the children enjoyed it very much.

Three Five-Generation Groups of Hanna Clan In 27 Years

An unique family heritage has been brought to Bowmanville in the person of Everett Hanna who is with the Real Estate Firm of Chas. Rankine, King Street West.

A member in three groups of five generations of the Hanna family within a span of 27 years, Everett Hanna looks back on a term of longevity that was singularly characteristic of his forebears.

In early 1800 Joshua Anderson, the great grandfather of Everett, settled on an island, known today as Anderson's Island, five miles south-west of Stirling where he lived to the age of 105 years. His wife lived to be 93 years of age and the couple shared 73 years of married life on their island home in the Trent River.

Born here, also, was Mrs. William Hanna, now 97 years old. Her son, Jared Hanna was born at River Valley, two miles south of Stirling, at the Hanna farm which has been in the Hanna name for over 200 years. Jared is Everett's father.

The three groups of five generations each began with the first in 1929 which was Mrs. Joshua Anderson, 97; Mrs. Wm. Hanna, 70; Jared Hanna, 50; his son, Everett, 24, and his daughter, Jean Fay, age three weeks.

The second group of five was formed in 1952 when Jean Fay Hanna, now Mrs. Les Wilson, of Newcastle, added to the family chain with twins, Catherine May and Ricky.

The third group came into being this year with the grand old lady, Mrs. William Hanna, at the age of 97, living in Trenton, still bright of eye and quick of wit, whose chief delight is knitting little things for her great grandchildren. The roster now reads, Mrs. Wm. Hanna, 97; Jared Hanna, 77; Everett Hanna, 51; Mrs. Norma Reeds (nee Ila Fern Hanna, Everett's second daughter) and her daughter, Carol Elaine Reeds, five weeks old. Truly, an unique family heritage. — Bowmanville Statesman.

Motorists On Spot

(H. M. Moore)

Lo the poor motorist whose troubled mind doesn't find him a friend at court these hectic summer days. If he drives too fast, he gets a ticket; if he drives too slowly, he gets a ticket, and so all he has to do is to be careful, courteous, calm, collected at all times if he wishes to get by without having his name and number inscribed in the speed cop's little book or by the magistrate in court a short time later.

While up to this time the highways department has been spending much thought and publicity to cut down the number of deaths and injuries due to excessive speed, it is now the plan to chase all slow drivers off the highways if they don't buck up.

Now the point is what is slow driving? How fast must a driver be going when he is considered to be going too slowly? It so often happens, on the highways particularly, that the motorist travelling at the legal rate of 50 miles an hour is soon overtaken and in time, if the traffic going in the opposite direction is heavy, there builds up a string of honking cars behind him, that is not his fault.

Slow driving, we take it, is about forty miles an hour or less. In these days of speed that is but crawling to certain motorists with the horsepower at the touch of their toes and the craze to pass everything in sight for no other reason than that they want to show they can.

According to Highways Minister Allen, the slow driver is a bigger menace on the highways than the fast driver, but since slow drivers are so few, while fast drivers are so many, we don't see much sense in the minister's argument.

The Bible Today

(By Rev. C. R. Ridd)

Canada today reads the Bible in 110 languages. In which language it first appeared in this country is not known. Perhaps it was introduced in the Latin by John Cabot in 1497. Jacques Cartier may have brought the first copy with him in 1535.

Copies of the English authorized version probably came ashore at Halifax with a British colony that settled in Nova Scotia in 1749. A Gospel of St. John was published in England for the Mohawk Indians living near Brantford in 1804. This edition of 2,000 was the first issued by a Bible Society anywhere in the world. In that year the first such Society was formed — The British and Foreign Bible Society.

Since then the Bible has been available in seventeen Canadian Indian tribal dialects or tongues. The first complete New Testament to be issued in one of them was printed in 1859. It was in the Western or Plains Cree dialect spoken by Indians from Hudson Bay to Lake Winnipeg and along the Saskatchewan River. Three years later this language had the complete Bible.

In 1819 the Governor of Cape Breton stated that he knew of settlers from the Highlands of Scotland travelling from 80 to 100 miles to obtain a Bible in Gaelic.

Canada has welcomed immigrants to its shores across the years in increasing numbers and from increasing points of the compass. Today all of these people find the Bible available here in a language they can understand. It is ironical that the language in which the first portion of it was printed expressly for Canada's original inhabitants is now out of print; one copy only of St. John's Gospel in Mohawk is known to exist. Descendants of this Six Nations tribe now use English almost exclusively.

Duck Season Opens At Noon Sept. 29th

Just a reminder to duck hunters!

The 1956 open season for migratory birds will commence at noon Saturday, September 29th in the Tweed District and will close on December 15th, according to R. C. Passmore, district forester of Tweed.

This will be the first time that duck season has opened at noon. The main reason for this is that many hunters take advantage of the usual half-hour-before-sunrise opening. They open fire long before dawn and often spoil a hunt.

A hunter may shoot in the aggregate of 8 ducks in one day and may have 16 in his possession. He may not shoot more than one wood duck in any one day or have more than two in his possession.

What Others Say!

CANADA'S SEAWAY

(Cornwall Standard-Freeholder)
It has been generally accepted that Canada would make her move towards an all-Canada seaway when the situation warranted, possibly within five or ten years after the opening of the International deep waterway in 1959.

Now, however, there is a prospect that this development may come much sooner than generally anticipated.

Since high level negotiations are still under way between the governments involved concerning the north channel dredging, the best one can do at this time is to speculate on the possibility of Canada getting her own seaway route within a few years.

The dredging problem must first be settled to the mutual satisfaction of the two countries. When and if agreement is reached on this score, Canada may be in a position to announce her intentions.

LUCKY DOG

(Kitchener-Waterloo Record)

While dogs did not have anything to do about it, they are lucky compared with human beings in regard to teeth. They have no dentist appointments and they have no toothaches.

A dog's teeth are unlike a human's. They do not have pulp and nerves and, therefore, are not susceptible to cari-

"OLD RAWHIDE"

ties. If a dog breaks a tooth, it does not decay but wears smooth.

THAT MAGAZINE TAX

(H. M. Moore)

While we are all for placing a tax on the advertising contained in American magazines for circulation in Canada yet it is small recompense for what we have lost in past years by the demise of the many magazines of our own. The imposition of the new tax was passed in the House of Commons during the week and while U.S. born Trade Minister Howe possibly voted for it, we notice that another U.S. born, in the person of the Hon. Earl Rowe, was much against it.

Of course it won't mean much to the American publishers. They will pass the tax on to the Canadian readers — poor Canucks, and thus we will be paying more for our American "propaganda" than we did before. And while doing this, we may sigh for the days that used to be when a dominion government forced all American magazine publishers to have copies for distribution in this country printed in East Toronto, Montreal, Gardenville and many other places this side of the border. In those days printers and machine operators and pressmen and the post office department, express companies, paper and ink manufacturers got something out of it. Today even with the new tax they won't. In fact many of the shops created at the time for printing American magazines here have long since gone out of business.

Meanwhile we shall have to get along with the magazines we have — they are small in number now, and their voices are weak, but even so, they are our very own and we must support them.

1200 Die Yearly In Small Boats Survey Indicates

Most of the 1,200 victims who, each year, lose their lives in accidents involving small boats are in the 20-24 age group, according to a report from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. received by the Health League of Canada.

A study revealed that, in addition to the greater number of men who die, nearly three out of every five insured persons who drowned were fishing; one quarter of the victims were cruising, rowing or canoeing for pleasure; one tenth were duck hunting, and an almost equal proportion were playing on rafts — there were practically all boys under 15.

Circumstances surrounding the deaths make a list of safety violations to be avoided by small boat users: Small boats turned over when occupants stood up or shifted positions in the craft.

Overloading was responsible for a number of deaths.

Dangerous practices such as speeding, sharp turns, and horseplay.

Numbers of the victims could not swim; in some instances they were alone or with fellow passengers, also non-swimmers.

Physical weakness or impairment. Sudden squalls or treacherous currents added to the toll.

Motor-driven craft, largely outboard, were listed in three-fifths of the drownings; rowboats in one-fifth; canoes and rafts, in virtually all the others. Sailboats, despite the popularity of sailing, appeared in the records of only two death claims.

Purchases declared under the $100 customs exemption privilege by Canadians returning from the United States in 1955 amounted to approximately $69,000,000.

TO WHOM CONCERNED

To several surprising inquiries, since our removal from Front St., Belleville, as to whether I have "retired," the emphatic response has, of course, been and continues to be . . . No!

Ideally, long continuous practical experience, when linked to familiarity with current post-graduate technical developments, should be mutually beneficial to humanity; as well as enjoyable to a practitioner of any profession appertaining to any of the Five Senses.

POWER IS DANGEROUS.

It is beginning to look as if another wave of strikes and work stoppages will take place again this year. As a result, a few sections of the working force will get more money. The rest — the majority — will pay higher prices for what they buy!

It makes you wonder whether the unions, now that they've formed a combine, will ever stop boosting their demands. Today, acting together, with huge financial war chests, their power is almost unlimited. They could, if they are determined, create another depression in a hurry.

In order to protect themselves from this rise in the cost of manufactured goods, the farmers are now forming combines or cartels, or whatever you want to call them, to increase the price of their products. When all the various farm organizations get together, they, too, have tremendous power. If they were ever to push this power too far, they could also create another depression.

The amazing thing is that labour unions and farm organizations seem to receive encouragement in the formation of these power centers. The government, with its right hand, wields a big stick to keep industry from forming combines; but with its left hand, it encourages farm and labor groups to do so. Perhaps the reason is that the politicians know industry has relatively few votes, while farm and labor have many.

At any rate, the government itself has an inclination towards monopoly. Whenever it decides to get into business, it seeks a monopoly in that area. TCA is one example; there are others.

Perhaps this formation of power centers would not be too bad if evenly balanced. But at the moment, they are not evenly balanced at all. As a result, those of us who are on the outside the comforting power centers can get pretty badly mauled.

The small-town worker gets hit hardest of all. He has no union power, and his wages rise slowly and naturally. The prices of things he has to buy, however, soar upwards at unnaturally high rates, artificially boosted because of union power or farm power. The vast majority of workers are not unionized and receive only the natural increases which come with increased production.

If pushed too far, they will stop buying — that is, they will buy the minimum amount necessary for life. They'll double-up in home accommodation, keep the old car a few more years, cut out luxuries entirely. Unemployment will begin, investments will dry up, and we'll be cruising towards another cycle of poverty in the midst of plenty.

It is to be hoped that responsible farm and labor leadership will recognize this danger, and act accordingly.

THE FOOD BASKET

CANADA'S KITCHEN

Can you imagine a kitchen run by over a dozen women, most of them graduate home economists? Although they don't prepare three meals a day, some of them do make home-size recipes and batches of jam and pickles much the same as you do, and what's more, there aren't "too many cooks to spoil the broth!" Of course, we're referring to Canada's Kitchen which really means the Kitchens and offices of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, and its staff, the home economists and their assistants.

You have, no doubt, been hearing about the Consumer Section and using their bulletins for years — since 1939 in fact when it was first organized. The purpose of the Section is to help Canadian homemakers in buying and using Canadian agricultural foods and the home economists do this by providing information on grading and other food regulations, by keeping you informed as to what foods are available, and by making suggestions as to the best ways to buy and use the foods grown in this country. The home economists work in close co-operation with the four commodity Divisions of the Marketing Service — Dairy Products, Fruits and Vegetables, Livestock and Livestock Products and Poultry — to ensure that only up-to-date information on food regulations and marketing is passed along to consumers.

The Consumer Section is divided into three sub-sections, Experimental, Information and Special Projects and, in addition, has a bilingual section. The experimental part encompasses the test kitchens where extensive work is carried on to determine the best methods of preserving Canadian agricultural foods for home use and to establish preferred cooking methods for various foods. Such factors as flavour, texture, appearance, practicality and, in some cases, nutritional value, are taken into consideration. Food products used in the test kitchens are bought in retail stores so that they will be the same as are sold to consumers.

Special projects such as surveys and long-term studies concerning a certain product are undertaken by other home economists in the Consumer Section. Usually these projects are carried out jointly with a Division of the Marketing Service, especially in merchandising projects of interest to consumers or in surveys where the aim is to find out consumer preferences.

The results of the experimental work and of the special projects are put to practical use in Consumer Section bulletins and booklets, in information releases sent to newspapers and radio and TV stations; and in correspondence answering many of the canning, freezing and cooking questions sent in by consumers. The bilingual section provides these same services to French speaking Canadians.

Young Man with a Plan

One of these days, Fred's going to take over the farm. Meanwhile, he's planning, studying and working hard — learning right on the job.

Already he's learned a lot about modern farm management, and how a chartered bank can play its part in making farm living more comfortable, more profitable. He has found, for example, how useful the bank can be as a place to build up savings, to obtain credit, to seek financial advice and market information. He knows that the bank manager's door is open to everyone.

When you see a good-looking, well-run farm, chances are the farmer uses the services the chartered banks have built up for all Canadians.

AFTER HARVEST PRUNING AND DISEASE CONTROL IN RASPBERRIES

This year it is important that raspberry growers cut out and burn old canes and diseased canes as soon as picking is finished advises C. B. Kelly, Botany Department, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. The planting should be sprayed with bordeaux or with ferbam. This will help to control anthracnose disease of raspberries.

The frequent rains in many parts of Ontario this year have been very favourable for anthracnose. Most raspberry growers are familiar with the grayish spots that develop on new canes but they may not have seen the spots on the lateral shoots and fruit stems. The rainy spring was very favourable for the spread of this fungus disease from the old canes to lateral shoots, fruit stems and new shoots. In some plantings the fungus attacked the berries turning many of the drupelets grayish. Many berries did not develop at all. These remained small, "seedy" and gray-green in colour. If the weather had been hot during the picking season, as it usually is, there would have been many poor raspberry crops. The berries on badly diseased fruit stems and laterals normally wither up just when picking gets nicely started and often the whole diseased cane dies.

This failure of the berries to develop and the rapid drying up of the old canes may be blamed on winter injury, lack of rain, running out of the planting, and so forth. Very often it should be blamed on Anthracnose.

Ordinarily anthracnose is kept under control by following good growing practice. However, in a year with frequent rains during the spring and summer, a trace of anthracnose may develop into a severe attack. A spray programme is then needed to reduce the amount of anthracnose to the point where good practice can again keep it to a minimum. It may take one to two seasons to accomplish this. The same programme also controls spur blight, another fungus disease affecting the canes.

Immediately after picking is finished cut out the old canes, diseased canes, weak spindly canes and any unneeded canes if the rows are too wide or the stand too thick. Burn them. Then spray with bordeaux 5-5-100, or with 75% ferbam wettable powder 2½ pounds in water 100 gallons. Coat the canes thoroughly with the spray. Ferbam is sold under such trade names as Chipman Ferbam, Fermate, Ferradow, Karbam Black, Niagara Ferbam, etc.

Next year apply three sprays, the first when the buds have burst 4 to ½ inch, the second just before bloom, and the third after picking is done. For the first spray use lime sulphur 10 gallons in water 90 gallons, or use a dinitro paste (e.g. Dinitrosal, Elgetol, or Krenite) 4 imperial quarts in water to make 100 gallons. Control measures for other raspberry diseases and insects are given in the Ontario Protection Calendar for Small Fruits, copies of which may be obtained from the nearest office of the Department of Agriculture.

ONTARIO CONCENTRATED MILK PRODUCERS WILL ASK FOR TARIFF

Angry delegates to the semi-annual meeting of the Ontario Concentrated Milk Producers' Marketing Board, in Toronto Friday of last week, unanimously directed that a message be sent to Hon. Walter Harris, Minister of Finance, "firmly requesting" that a new agreement be entered into with Australia and New Zealand immediately, through which milk powder imported from those countries into Canada be subject to a tariff of not less than 4 cents per pound.

Present tariff, by agreement with Australia and New Zealand, is one cent per pound, while the most-favoured-nation tariff is four cents per pound.

Incensed delegates charged that some manufacturers were opposed to the increase in tariff because it has been their chief weapon in holding down the producers' prices, which has increased only a few cents during the past six years, despite the heavy increases in operating costs on the farm. President George Lowry told the meeting that one plant operator bluntly informed him that they would import powder before they would pay more money for milk. Present prices paid for milk going into powder averaged around $2.56 during July. At present costs it was impossible to produce milk at this figure and many producers were going out of business.

It was pointed out that climatic conditions, economic level, lower costs and government policies permit Australia and New Zealand to produce at a lower figure, and those countries are enabled to export powder at a price with which Canadian farmers because of higher costs, are unable to compete.

That the extreme dissatisfaction was general among the more than 16,000 producers was seen in the reports from the meetings of some 30 local associations all of which demanded a price ranging from not less than $3.00 per cwt. up to $3.50. The mood of producers was also expressed in a proposal to sound out producer support of the provincial board in securing this price, even to the extent of withholding milk, or drying off their cows.

POTATO QUALITY REACHES NEW HIGH

The Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture advises that this year's crop of Ontario grown potatoes is of greatly improved quality, even at this early date, compared with those produced in recent years. This is especially noticeable with respect to dry matter. Actual tests show that many of the potatoes now being marketed range from 18% to 22% dry matter as compared to 16% and below for other years, even at harvest time.

Ideal growing conditions for potatoes this season, coupled with more interest being shown in kinds and amounts of commercial fertilizers used at the proper time are reasons advanced for the excellent quality obtained. Because growers now consider quality of potatoes to be of greater importance, some producers of commercial fertilizers are making available a special potato fertilizer using sulphate of potash instead of muriate.

Some potato crops are now sufficiently advanced both in size and quality of tubers that top killers are being used to mature the crop and also to eliminate possible losses from late blight disease. A number of commercial materials in either dust or spray form are available for this purpose. "Kill the Tops and Save the Crops" is a practice being followed by many growers.

WHO'S HERB GOTT?

Herb hasn't got anybody here, but in case you were wondering just who is Herb Gott, then the above picture should settle that for you. Herb can be heard interviewing interesting personalities on his Saturday radio feature, "Who's Herb Gott?" on the Trans-Canada network of the CBC.

Information regarding kinds and amounts of material used for top killing of potatoes may be had from your nearest Agricultural Representative or Departmental Fieldman, and also from the Field Crops Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

WEED OF THE WEEK

WATER HEMLOCK DANGEROUS TO BOTH MAN AND BEAST

Water Hemlock is a native Canadian weed known also by such names as spotted cowbane, spotted hemlock, musquash root, beaver poison and poison parsnip. But, by whatever name it is known locally, it is extremely poisonous both to man and animals, advises the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Water Hemlock is a perennial which grows from two to six feet in height and thrives in low, wet, swampy areas, ditch bottoms, stream banks and wet, poorly drained pastures. The stems of the plant are hollow, smooth, sometimes purple-striped and ridged. The flowers are white and grow in large clusters. The roots are tuberous and somewhat like those of the dahlia.

The whole plant is poisonous but the roots are particularly so. In the spring when the ground is wet and soft, pasturing cattle will pull at the new shoots and the whole plant, including the root, will be pulled up and eaten. Death usually follows so quickly that there is no time to apply counteractive measures. There have been a few human deaths in Ontario which were also attributed to Water Hemlock poisoning. A piece of root the size of a cube of sugar is fatal to both animals and humans.

Water Hemlock is found in many areas of Ontario and for safety's sake everyone should learn to recognize this dangerous weed. Pasture land should be examined in the spring and where the weed is discovered it should be pulled out and all plants destroyed before livestock are allowed into the area.

Beware of any plant with dahlia-like tuberous roots, hollow, jointed, purple-tinged and ridged stems, clusters of white flowers, and rather long, narrow notched leaves.

Hon. W. A. Goodfellow To Open Plowing Match

F. A. Lashley, Secretary-Manager of the Ontario's Plowmen's Association has announced that Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, newly appointed Minister of Agriculture, would open the International Plowing Match at Brooklyn, on October 9th.

At the same time Mr. Lashley said that to make certain that uniform standards will be used in judging the work of contestants, the judges who will officiate during the week of October 9th to 12th will attend a "refresher course" in judging on September 10th. The judges will have an opportunity of getting their eye in and exchanging notes when they meet on the farm of C. Ricci, Esqueving Township, Halton County. Various types of plowing will be demonstrated.

With advance registrations particularly heavy, Mr. Lashley warned that the dead-line for applications for exhibit or concession space was September 1st and final day for making entries in the various plowing classes is September 28th.

SPOTLIGHT ON BREAD

Please pass the bread! Hardly a day goes by in any Canadian home but those familiar words are spoken. Whether it's toast for breakfast, a sandwich for lunch or a roll or bread with dinner, bread is an accepted and basic part of our daily meal pattern. But, not too many Canadians really recognize and appreciate their daily bread for what it is. Today's bread, has not come about overnight. The loaf we eat today is the result of many centuries of development, research, and changing food habits.

The Wheat

First had to come the agricultural development of wheat, the most common grain used in today's flour and bread production. From a wild grass, thought to have grown first in South East Asia or North East Africa, wheat was gradually cultivated by early dwellers in the east Mediterranean countries. It was brought to the "new" world via Mexico, by the Spaniards about the year 1530. Its cultivation and use soon spread northward to islands off the coast of what is now Massachusetts and from there, about 1605, to the now historical village of Annapolis Royal in Nova Scotia.

An equally significant date in Canadian wheat-growing history was the year 1813, when Selkirk settlers brought wheat seeds from Scotland and planted them near the junction of the Red and Assiniboine rivers. From this small beginning, western Canada has developed into one of the largest wheat producing areas of the world. Today, more than 27 million acres produce some 600 million bushels of Canadian wheat annually. Along with developments in the cultivation of wheat to increase its yield per acre, have come significant improvements in the food value of the grain by increasing its protein content.

The Milling Process

While the grain itself has been travelling the road to progress from ancient to modern times, parallel developments have been taking place in the method of converting wheat into a form suitable for the making of bread. Thus comes the story of milling.

In ancient times a "mill" was merely a stone used to pound the wheat or other grain into a mealy substance known as flour. Then came the hand mill, involving a similar process, except that two stones were used to crush the grain. Later, horses or mules were used to operate larger models of the two-stone hand mill. When the Romans invented a watermill, and the Dutch a windmill, preparing the flour became easier. Further improvements were gradual, until the invention of the steam engine, when capacity of a mill was increased about 20 fold. Today's modern flour mill, with huge steel rollers replacing the ancient grinding stones, is a combination of efficient machines, which can be adjusted to make a variety of nutritious flours, to suit the needs of our modern civilization.

Baking Bread

And what of the story of the making and baking of bread itself?

Early cave dwellers were probably limited to two ingredients — hand-pounded grain and water. Their flat sticky cakes of dough were dried or baked over the hot embers of an open fire. The ancient Egyptians were the first people known to have used leavening — probably a primitive type of homemade yeast — in their bread. They are thus credited with inventing ovens, since the leavened loaves would not bake on an open fire. Use of ovens and the leavened loaf spread to the Roman Empire over 2,000 years ago, and later, along with other customs, were gradually brought to the "new" world. Although early Canadian settlers baked their 'home-ground meal and water' bread by twisting the dough around a stick and planting it close to the hot embers of their fire, they gradually adopted the oven baking method. That old-fashioned type of outdoor brick and stone oven may still be seen in some parts of rural Quebec.

Until recent years, bread baking was largely a household task. Today, about 90% of the bread eaten in Canada is made in a bakery. The basic ingredients are the same as grandmother used — flour, water, yeast, sugar, shortening and salt. But the guess-work is gone. With trained, experienced personnel, modern machinery and the results of painstaking research to guide him, the modern baker can produce bread which is uniformly nutritious and yet varied enough to suit the needs of our constantly growing population.

SHOOTING ENDS FARM ARGUMENT; 2 MEN CHARGED

Two farm hands were charged, with murder Tuesday of this week a few hours after Roy Rogers, 29, was shot on a farm near Warkworth. Charged are Clifford Brough, 24, and Robert White, 18.

Rogers, father of three children, was shot in the kitchen of a farm run by his brother, Wesley. Both White and Brough work on the farm.

Police said the shooting was the climax of an argument over the ownership of a farm left to Roy Rogers by his father, whose will is being contested by Wesley. The action is before the courts.

Police said Roy Rogers went to the farm accompanied by a Mr. and Mrs. Page.

White and Brough were arrested, outside the house on the disputed farm. Inspector Don Nicol of the provincial police criminal investigation branch laid charges after conferring with Crown Attorney Harry Deyman, of Cobourg.

Police said two shots were fired and Rogers died before medical aid arrived. Two bullets from a .22-calibre rifle entered his body.

Coroner D. W. Burgess of Campbellford, said an autopsy will be held.

THEY DON'T MIX

(Brockville Recorder and Times)

Contemporary history has shown that as the power of dictatorship is increased so in proportion is the freedom of the press decreased. Note that a Canadian journalist has been expelled from Egypt — a direct result of the tightening of government control in Egypt brought on by Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal.

Dictatorships and free journalism have never mixed, and never will mix.

Tractor On Fire At Local Garage

Stirling Fire Brigade answered an alarm on Friday afternoon to Stirling Motor Sales, where a tractor, to which repairs were being made, was on fire. The fire originated from a short circuit in the battery cable, which ignited gas fumes. The fire caused a break in the gas line and the gasoline poured out to add fuel to the flames, which shot as high as the ceiling. The firemen were able to extinguish the blaze in a few minutes.

Fortunately the ceiling was of a non-inflammable material or the blaze might have reached more serious proportions. However the heat was so intense that all the glass in the skylight was cracked.

Mrs. E. Cain Hostess to St. Andrew's W.M.S. For September Meeting

The September meeting of St. Andrew's W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. E. Cain with Mrs. B. Reid and Miss Gena Spry as assistants.

The President, Mrs. Roy Eggleton, welcomed the members and visitors and expressed the hope for renewed interest in this Missionary work for this coming fall. The hymn, "Come Let Us Sing of a Wonderful Love," was sung. The Scripture Lesson from Psalm 102 was read by Mrs. Don Rodgers. Two poems were then read by Mrs. Don Rodgers as follows:

I dare not slight the stranger at my door—
Threadbare of garb and sorrowful of lot—
Lest it be Christ that stands; and goes His way
Because I, all unworthy, knew Him not.

I dare not miss one flash of kindling cheer
From alien souls, in challenge glad and high.
Ah, what if God be moving very near
And I, so blind, so deaf, had passed Him by? —Laura Simmons

If you sit down at set of sun
And count the acts that you have done,
And, counting find
One self-denying deed, one word
That eased the heart of him who heard—
One glance most kind,
That fell like sunshine where it went—
Then you may count that day well spent.

But, if through all the livelong day,
You've cheered no heart, by yea or nay—
If, through it all
You've nothing done that you can trace
That brought the sunshine to one face
No act most small
That helped some soul and nothing cost—
Then count that day as worse than lost.

A prayer that the love of God may enter our hearts in such a fashion that we may continue to have courage to carry on in spite of discouragements, was offered by Mrs. R. Eggleton.

The roll call was conducted by Mrs. E. Fox. The word "charity" was the keyword. It is encouraging to note the interest that there is taken in this response. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Fox.

The Glad Tidings Secretary, Mrs. L. Rodgers, read a letter from head office informing the members that the subscription rate to the magazine will henceforth be $1.00 yearly.

A Visiting Committee, Mrs. B. Reid and Mrs. E. Foster, was named in the hope that the sick and shut-ins will be visited this month. Those who have served the church well should not be forgotten. The offering was taken by the Treasurer, Mrs. E. Cain. At this time we were reminded of our thank-offering for next month.

A very educational paper on Nigeria, its people and their most urgent needs was read by Mrs. W. H. Walker.

The battle of life is not won by generals alone. The lowly and the humble often must win the favour of our Lord and Master. As we become informed about the work of our Society we have a genuine interest in the work.

The account of the summer appointments by Frieda E. Matthews, was read by Mrs. S. McIntosh. These girls are living a life of sacrifice for us.

A reading entitled, "A Hallowed Holiday," was read by Mrs. Don Fargy. We have blessings in great number showered upon us from on high. Do we in return give back as good stewards our fair share for the work of the church?

The story of how a little boy through very persistent efforts was able to win for himself the prize of his heart was read by Mrs. E. Foster. The bala secretary, Mrs. Ken Ray, asked that all donations for the bala be handed in promptly. It is hoped that this work will be accomplished cheerfully.

Johnson -- Bateman Nuptials At Thomasburg

Thomasburg United Church was the scene of a very pretty fall wedding on Saturday, September 1st at 2:00 p.m., when Ruby Margaret, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bateman, of Thomasburg, Ontario, was united in marriage to Ralph Ivan Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson, of Stirling.

The bride, who was charmingly gowned in flowered net over white satin with fingertip veil held by a headress of lace trimmed with pearls, entered the church on the arm of her father, to the strains of the "Wedding March," played by Mr. Laird Morton, of Tweed. She carried a bridal bouquet of red roses.

Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. C. E. Richardson, of Norwood, as bridesmaid, who wore light blue sheer nylon over satin with matching headress and carried a bouquet of pink and white 'mums and roses.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Keith Johnson, of Stirling and the ushers were Mr. Craig Watson, of Stirling, and Mr. Roy Boyce, Cannifton.

Immediately preceding the brief but impressive ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. W. G. Fletcher, B.A., of Stirling, Miss Ruth Linn, of Stirling, sang "I'll Walk Beside You," and during the signing of the register, "O Perfect Love."

The church was tastefully decorated with baskets of pink and white gladioli against a background of ferns.

Following the ceremony, a reception took place at the home of the bride. The guests, the immediate families of the bridal couple and numbering about 40, were received by the bride's mother, wearing sand crepe. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother dressed in navy crepe and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Thomas Slush, of Tweed, attired in charcoal grey crepe.

The dainty buffet luncheon was served by friends of the bride, Mrs. Earl Morton and Mrs. Cyril Latchford, of Thomasburg; Mrs. Donald Spencer, of Roslin; Mrs. Roy Boyce, of Cannifton, and Miss Betty McConnell, of Stirling.

Amid showers of confetti, the happy couple left for a brief honeymoon in New York State via Ivy Lea Bridge and returning by way of the Peace Bridge; the bride wearing a beige gabardine suit with matching hat, black accessories and a corsage of Sweetheart roses.

On their return they will reside at Hoard's Station.

St. John's Guild

The regular business meeting of St. John's Ladies' Guild was held in the Parish Hall on Tuesday, September 4th. The President, Mrs. B. Woodbeck opened the meeting with hymn 781. Rev. H. C. Secker led in prayer. Twelve members answered the roll call. Mrs. M. Tanner gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Secker and Mrs. B. Woodbeck presided over the programme. Two piano solos were played by Barbara Woodbeck, "Dance with the Brownie" and "The Prince Royal." Mrs. Secker gave a reading, "Osler's Mother Led A Rigorous Life." This was followed by a contest named "Add B in front of a word to get another word." Mrs. Secker closed the meeting with prayer.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Woodbeck and Mrs. Secker. Mrs. M. Tanner moved a vote of thanks to all who helped with the meeting.

The next business meeting will be held on Tuesday afternoon October 2nd at 2:30 p.m. in the Parish Hall.

Auto Crashes Guard Rails Driver Dies

David Max Robertson, aged 36, of Havelock, died Friday evening a few minutes after the car in which he was travelling on Highway 14, failed to take a bend one mile south of Marmora, crashed through guard rails and overturned.

Robertson, a mine worker at Marmora, and the father of three daughters, was alone in the vehicle at the time.

Mr. Robertson was a brother of Fred Robertson, Liberal member of Parliament of Northumberland-Durham.

He was travelling north and was at the spot known as Mile Rock, where the road takes a long left-hand bend, when he apparently lost control of his 1940 model car.

It took off about ten guard rail posts and rolled over into the east ditch. The car was a total wreck.

First people on the scene found Robertson lying behind the vehicle. He died soon after of multiple chest injuries.

Among those called to the scene were Dr. H. G. Parkin, of Marmora, who was too late to be able to do anything for Robertson and Coroner

Dr. E. A. Carelton, of Stirling, who pronounced him dead.

Madoc Man Held In Hit-Run Death Holloway Boy

Kenneth R. Holmes, a Madoc insurance salesman, has been charged with failing to remain at the scene of an accident after a 15-year-old boy was killed on Friday evening last.

The victim was Calvin Reid, of Holloway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Reid.

The boy's body was found early Saturday in a county road ditch. Partly hidden by a clump of trees, his twisted bicycle was found 50 feet from the body. Calvin left his home after supper Friday to play baseball with some friends, his father said. When the boy had not returned by 11 p.m. Mr. Reid called the police. The search ended about 3½ hours later when the body was found.

The boy's death was the second traffic fatality in the Reid family. A daughter was killed in a car accident two years ago.

Work on New P.O.

The contract for the building of Madoc's new post office has been awarded Shore and Horwitz Co., of Ottawa, and work of putting in the footings is started.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

IS ANYBODY RIGHT?

A reader has ticked me off. He writes, "You are against everybody — industry, farmer, laborer. You berate the government one day, the CBC the next, and somebody else the next. Don't you like anybody?"

Ummmm Reading back, I note that I have been pretty querulous. A fellow ought to be for something once in a while!

Okay, fellow. I like the way industry is bursting out at the seams developing oil, minerals, and other resources. If I had money, I'd be into common stocks, because I think our industries are well-managed. Most business men are honest and sincere, but I get sore at them when they run to the government for favors.

I like farmers when they're plowing straight furrows and keeping their fields rich and free of weeds, and fighting for prices which are right and just. I admire today's farmer, because he's had the courage to modernize, to produce more goods with less manpower. The only time I get sore is when farmers take what I believe to be an immoral stand by attempting to ban a good food through power politics, while pretending they ought to wear halos like the saints. I like farmers more than anybody when they don't get to liking themselves too much! Lately, they've been talking in a learned way about everybody else's business, but when anyone else talks about farming they cry, "How do you know? You're not a farmer!"

Like every city slicker who wears a collar, I've a sneaking respect for labor's brawn and muscle and camaraderie. Pass the hat for a sick pal or his family, and working men are generous. I get sore at them only because they don't run their unions any more — and union leaders make suckers out of them as much as bosses ever did. Union leaders purport to speak for their membership on controversies where the leaders and union members are as far apart as the poles... yet the workers let them get away with it!

I'm not entirely against governments, either, but I think somebody's got to howl when they exceed their powers.

But, starting next week, I'll try to have more sweetness and light in this column. I'll get up on the other side of the bed.

School Days Safer Days

The Labour Day week-end, the last of our summer driving extravaganzas is behind us. Deaths over the holiday week-end totalled 46. Over the same period in 1955, 55 people were killed. This represents an improvement of sixteen per cent, though we can scarcely refer to the killing of 46 people as an improvement.

Every province in Canada has stepped up its enforcement programme and has extended its road improvement programme. We are paying attention to Enforcement and Engineering, but we are neglecting to make the most of Education, which is the most important of the three "E's" of accident reduction.

Accidents are prevented through education. It is probably the strongest weapon we have. Education in our schools brings regimentation both for the children and for families. Regimentation brings discipline. Discipline brings control, and control — self-control or group control — outlaws accidents.

Now that the children are back to school, week-end travel has lessened, holiday trekking is over and pleasure driving is reduced. We can look for fewer accidents because of less traffic density and fewer driver distractions. The class-room lessons in safe walking will infect children and parents alike. The children will be doing their share to remind us to drive and walk carefully. May we hope that as adults we will take a good look at our driving habits and try to drive with care and courtesy.

Accidents happen one at a time. They may be prevented one at a time. There are very few traffic accidents which would occur if the situation repeated itself. Few of us drive as well as we know how to drive.

Days grow shorter. Nights come quickly. Roads are more slippery. Driving conditions in general become more difficult during the fall. The Canadian Highway Safety Conference urges that we pay attention to these things and by our watchfulness prove that September, October and November need not be serious accident months.

Industrial employment, payrolls and average weekly salaries and wages at January 1st, 1956 were at a new high for the January 1st date in Canada. Weekly wages for example averaged $60.61 against $58.42 the year previous.

The Bible Today

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

In commemoration of the 400th anniversary of the first printing of the Scriptures in Slovenian a new edition of the New Testament in that language is to be issued soon.

In 1555 St. Matthew's Gospel appeared for the first time in Slovenian. One of its translators was a refugee, the one time Bishop of Cape d'Istria in Venetian territory. Joining the reformation movement Peter Veregerius fled first to Switzerland and then to Tübingen. There he helped Primus Truber who was the master mind behind the translation.

The Grand Duke of Wutenburg was induced to bear the cost of the first printing.

Truber translated portion after portion of the New Testament and the complete work was published in 1577. Not until 1584 was the whole Bible issued.

In 1882 the British and Foreign Bible Society started producing Bibles in Slovenian. It is this Society that plans to put out the commemorative edition this year.

To Appoint Minister Municipal Affairs

Premier Frost of Ontario indicated Friday that a new permanent minister of municipal affairs will be appointed next month.

The post was opened last month when William Goodfellow, who still officially holds the position moved over to become agriculture minister. William Warrender was appointed acting municipal minister and speculation is that he may receive the permanent appointment.

The agriculture ministry was made vacant by the resignation of Fletcher Thomas because of ill health.

THE FOOD BASKET

Free publications on the buying and using of Canadian agricultural food products are available from the Information Service, Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, Ontario. The recipes and methods outlined in these bulletins and leaflets may be used with confidence for all of them have been thoroughly tested by the home economists of the Consumer Section in Canada's Kitchen. Here are some of the publications that are available at present.

"Freezing Foods" (Bulletin number 892) tells how to freeze fruits, vegetables, meats, poultry, eggs, baked foods and sandwiches. Among other things, the Consumer Section recommends freezing pies unbaked, and in this bulletin they give specific baking instructions for frozen fruit pies, pumpkin pies and mince pies. Recommended storage times for meats and other foods are included and, in addition, there is a section on home freezer management which gives several suggestions on how to make the best use of your freezer.

"Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables" (Bulletin number 789) outlines the steps for cold-pack and hot pack canning of fruits and pressure canning of vegetables. Directions for canning grape juice and tomato juice are included.

"Cheese Dishes" This booklet contains up-to-date information on the types of cheese made in Canada, as well as hints and recipes for using cheese. A recipe for Nippy Cheese Dip to serve with crackers or potato chips calls for 14-oz. package cream cheese, 14-oz. package Canadian Blue Cheese, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and 2 teaspoons lemon juice whipped together lightly.

"The Art of Making Sandwiches" a mimeographed folder, was created to assist homemakers in planning and preparing sandwiches for lunches, teas and other occasions. The folder also contains a table giving the quantities required for 50 servings of beverages, meats, vegetables and other foods that are likely to be served at receptions or church suppers.

Other Folders and Charts Available: "Eggs" — Buying, Care and Cooking, including recipes for Omelet, Souffle and Custard; "Apple Recipes" — for desserts, salads and relishes; "White Navy Beans" — ten recipes including one for Chili Beans; "Salads" — made from vegetables, meat and fruit, with suggestions for garnishing and recipes for dressing; "Cereals" — interesting facts about wheat, oats and barley with recipes for soups, main dishes, hot breads and desserts; "Beef Chart" and "Pork Chart" — showing wholesale and retail cuts of these meats.

Butter Plant Burned At Bancroft

A fire of undetermined origin gutted the egg grading and butter factory of Canada Packers in Bancroft Monday at 3:30 a.m.

The tin-covered creamery is situated half-way along the east side of the main Hastings St., and when the village fire department under Chief Cecil McAlpine got to the scene with the pumper and auxiliary pumping equipment, the fire was beyond control.

The butter maker, William Campbell, and his wife lived above the plant in the company-owned apartment. The Packers building consisted of an office on the main floor front, the plant in the rear and an apartment over both, above. The fire gutted the building completely but the walls are still standing.

There are more than 4,000 uses of wood today.

replacing muscle tissue especially in the groin and becomes ripe for getting a rupture. Especially is this true when such an individual someday, undertakes to help lift, push or struggle with some heavy object; "poof" goes the weakened belly wall, and the man is ruptured.

In most cases, Dr. Shouldice points out, this can be prevented by a simple exercise. He recommends lying in a prone position and raising the head and shoulders to a sitting position without use of hand or arms. This should be done daily, beginning with four or five times and increasing one a day to twenty times.

A rupture is a protrusion of a viscus (most commonly bowel) through an opening in the muscles and sinews of the abdominal wall. About forty males are afflicted to one female, Dr. Shouldice says, chiefly because the testicle descends through the abdominal wall, leaving a weakened area. This, he says, may account for the habit among primitive peoples of letting women do the heavy lifting and carrying work.

The Trail Rangers and Tuxis groups held a party in the church basement on Tuesday evening to honour a fellow member, Harold Huyck prior to his departure for British Columbia on Wednesday to begin his training in the Army. Games were played and Rev. H. E. Beare showed some very interesting slides. Harold was the recipient of a lovely fountain pen from the group for which he voiced his thanks.

Lunch was served and a social hour spent.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

PIN-POINT SCAB ON APPLES WIDESPREAD

Pin-point scab on apples is reported to be widespread in Eastern and Central Ontario at the present time. This disease — a form of common apple scab — is apparently the result of abundant moisture during July and August, and could lead to serious down-grading of Ontario's 1956 apple crop.

Pin-point scab is a late autumn infection causing scab spots on the fruit that are generally more dense and darker than the normal scab spot but the cuticle is not broken as early as with spring infections. Further, the autumn lesions seldom reach the stage of development where the centre becomes bare and brown, and they are frequently much smaller than the spring infections — hence the term Pin-Point scab.

Under normal growing conditions where the orchardist has followed the recommended spray programme, Pin-Point scab should not be a problem. However, where timing of spray applications has not been judged accurately, or where weather conditions have particularly favored scab development, growers are likely to find a high degree of infection in their orchards. If Pin-Point scab is present, the following treatment is recommended:

Mix 1½ to 2 lbs. of Captan 50-W in 100 gals. of water and spray thoroughly. A repeat application in 3 to 5 days should be made if scab appears to be still active. Captan 50-W can be applied up to 3 days before harvest.

It is particularly important to keep the fruit in order to prevent further development of the infection and to assure good finish. Unchecked Pin-Point scab will result in a poor grade crop and one very susceptible to rapid deterioration in storage.

POTATO GROWERS URGED TO KILL PLANT TOPS

Although the weather in recent weeks has been favorable for the development of the potato crop, which so far is of excellent quality, there is great danger that much of the crop may still be lost due to late blight disease. The Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture advises that action should be taken at once to prevent large scale losses from the disease.

Late blight disease is caused by a fungus that first invades the leaves and stems of the green potato plants, spores, or seeds, are produced on these infested areas which may be carried by rain or wind to other potato plants where they start new infections. A whole field may be blighted in a few days if the weather is cool with high humidity. The infested plants turn from lush green to a dark, dead brownish color. Late blight spores may be washed down into the tubers in the soil or shaken off the tops onto the potatoes when they are dug. Infection from this will be seen some weeks later in storage.

The Field Crops Branch states that "Kill the Tops and Save the Crops" is a sound policy to follow at this time in order to avoid complaints or loss during the marketing of the crop.

This year most plants have set more than an average number of tubers which have sized well and the "grade out" from such diseases as scab will be less this season. The quality so far is excellent with the percentage of dry matter content well above former years. Thus, by killing the tops within the next few days skins will be firm and tubers mature for harvest, assuring high quality potatoes, a minimum of bruising and a maximum of dry matter.

Meanwhile, buyers would be well advised to purchase supplies regularly, but avoid building up their stock, and potatoes should be kept in well ventilated, cool storage.

BROODINESS AND ITS CONTROL

Broodiness is a natural characteristic in the domestic fowl. Prior to the development of modern mechanical incubators broodiness was a necessary part of the process of reproduction. It has been demonstrated that broody hens lay fewer eggs compared with non broody hens, and actually are a "nest nuisance," breaking eggs, soiling other eggs and nest material and requiring extra labor to care for them. It is for these reasons that broody hens are considered undesirable in the modern laying flock, says F. G. Proudfoot, of the Canada Department of Agriculture.

Various methods have been tried to control or eliminate broodiness in the fowl. Most poultrymen are familiar with the "broody crop" in which broody hens are placed so that broodiness is discouraged by removing hens from access to eggs and from the darkness and warmth of an enclosed nest. It is well known that subdued lighting, warm temperatures and access to eggs are conducive to broodiness. The "broody crop" is fairly effective but requires considerable labor for feeding and watering, etc. In order to reduce labor requirements, some poultrymen use a "broody pen" made by constructing a wire net partition across one corner of the laying pen. The mechanical feeder passes through the "broody pen," and it is also equipped with an automatic waterer. This arrangement reduces labor requirements considerably and when well-lighted and ventilated is just as effective as the broody coop in the control of broodiness. Care must be taken, however, to make sure that eggs which may be laid on the floor of the "broody pen" are promptly removed.

The use of drugs as means of controlling broodiness has been attempted but to date such a method is not considered commercially practical.

Selective breeding shows much promise for the control of broodiness. It is well known that in many strains of Leghorns, broodiness has been reduced almost to the point of elimination. Breeding for non-broodiness in pure strains and crosses can be complex and time consuming. In the meantime, when broodiness makes its appearance in a flock the poultry farmers must continue to use the "broody coop" or the "broody pen" to control broodiness in the domestic fowl, particularly those farmers who keep the heavy breeds and crosses of heavy breeds.

4-H Clubs Mark Anniversary

In marking the 25th Anniversary of the 4-H Department at the Central Canada Exhibition, Ottawa, a huge 500-pound cake was featured at this year's concluding 4-H banquet. The cake with appropriate decorations was presented by the Bakers of Ottawa and Hull and was known as "Herb's Cake" in honour of H. H. McElroy, Manager of the Exhibition and for many years a staunch supporter of the 4-H programme.

Because of illness Mr. McElroy was unable to attend the banquet but his daughter, Mrs. Donald Adamson, represented him at the head table and accepted a plaque presented to her father by the 4-H clubs of Eastern Ontario in appreciation of his valued support down through the years.

More than 550 district 4-H members were guests of the Exhibition at the banquet and took part in the three-day camp programme. Dr. C. D. Graham, Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Ontario and a former Ottawa district farm boy, was the guest speaker. He emphasized the value of the club movement in agriculture today and stated that 4-H work is putting into the hands of youth the tools to make time and effort more productive.

The 4-H parade, which included a float-sized replica of the large cake, was introduced to the grandstand by R. G. Bennett, Associate Director of Extension in Ontario and immediate past president of the Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs.

WEED OF THE WEEK

RUST NO PROBLEM IF BARBERRY ERADICATED

If all Common Barberry and European Buckthorn plants were destroyed stem rust of grain and leaf rust of oats would cease to be a problem to farmers, says the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

A single spore of stem rust of grain overwintering on stubble can produce only one infection on grain the following year. However, if the Common Barberry is present to act as host plant, a single spore of rust overwintering on it can build up millions of spores, each of which can infect grain. Leaf rust in oats builds up spores in the same manner on European Buckthorn.

The Common Barberry is a perennial shrub growing from three to eight feet in height which reproduces by seeds and by shoots from the wide-spreading roots. The leaves have saw-toothed edges and terminate in short spines on the stem. The numerous, yellow flowers hang in long clusters from the axils of the leaves and by autumn the flowers mature to bright red, elliptical berries.

European Buckthorn is a shrub or small tree varying considerably in size and commonly growing in fence rows or woodlots. It is very bushy and the shoots terminate with a sharp spine. The leaves are opposite, elliptical in outline, smooth and with toothed margins. Clusters of greenish flowers produce black berries similar to chokecherries. It retains its green leaves late in the fall when most other shrubs and trees have shed theirs.

When present in large numbers a tractor can pull, or a bulldozer can uproot these plants rapidly and cheaply. Cutting is not recommended, since new growth appears rapidly.

Sodium chlorate applied as a spray at 1½ lbs. per gallon of water, or applied as a dry salt around the base of the plant to sterilize the soil and kill the roots, gives very good results. Atlatide or Erocide are safer to use, since they have fire retardant materials mixed with sodium chlorate. Care must be taken with these chemicals since they are corrosive, are poisonous to livestock and, in the case of sodium chlorate, are highly inflammable.

2,4-D or 2,4,5-T esters or mixtures of these two chemicals applied as a foliage spray should be used at the rate on 2 or 3 lbs. of acid equivalent per 100 gallons of water. This should be applied when the plants are coming into full leaf. A basal bark spray can be applied at any time of the year. This spray consists of 2 lbs. of acid equivalent in 10 gallons of fuel oil sprayed or painted on the lower twelve inches of the main stems and on any exposed roots. A follow-up treatment is advised regardless of the method of control since a one hundred per cent kill is difficult to achieve with a single treatment.

The Ontario Department of Agriculture has issued Extension Circular No. 49 which describes the Barberry and Buckthorn plants and the method of control. Farmers are urged to secure a copy of this circular so that they may recognize the plants and eradicate them in the interest of rust-free grain.

THE SUPPLY OF PROVEN BULLS FOR ARTIFICIAL INSEMINATION

Artificial insemination is now accepted as a practical method for breeding cows in all parts of Canada. In other countries it is equally popular and information from England indicates that in the population of cows now being bred artificially, there are 100 times fewer bulls in use. In practice, artificially used bulls on the average, breed 2,000 cows a year and this figure could be increased many times with a strong demand for semen from a particular bull. Consequently, good and poor breeding bulls are used more heavily in artificial service than in natural service, and mistakes in bull selections are much more serious when artificially used.

To avoid such mistakes, says C. G. Hickman, Research Officer, Dairy Cattle Breeding, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, Ont., clear objectives must be established for what is needed in a profitable dairy cow, and breeding programmes for bull selection are imperative. Otherwise artificial insemination could lower the producing abilities of the present generation of dairy cattle.

Breeding programmes operated by artificial insemination units in co-operation with patrons are needed to provide a steady supply of proven bulls for use in artificial insemination. Young bulls out of cows known to produce their stablemates for several lactations should be put into limited artificial service in many herds. After a year of such use they should be taken out of service until daughter production is known. With this information the best bulls can be put back into service for heavy use, and the remainder whose daughters failed to do better than average should be shipped to the slaughter house. The present scarcity of such highly selected bulls in our units, not only discounts the importance of artificial insemination, but also speaks convincingly of the need for sire proving programs.

FRINGES

THE COST of an hour's work in business includes some money that the employee does not get immediately.

In addition to the hourly wage, there is the money the employer must set aside for vacations with pay, for statutory holidays and for unemployment insurance; in the case of many companies there is also the money required for hospital and medical care, for pensions and other "fringes."

Many people, including those self-employed, must themselves save for their holidays and their future needs and desires. On the other hand, people who work in some large enterprises for salaries or wages apparently prefer to have their employer set aside for them money for such purposes.

Fringe benefits are savings for the benefit of the employees and a substantial expense for the employers. They are part of the cost of an hour's work which must be recovered from customers in selling prices.

MRS. FRANK BAILEY

A well known and highly esteemed resident of the Carmel community Mrs. Frank Bailey died at her home on Monday, after an illness of two years' duration.

The late Mrs. Bailey was the former Jessie Bella Thompson and was born in Foxboro, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Archie J. Thompson. She was in her 76th year and had resided in this district for the past fifty-eight years. A member of Carmel United Church and the Woman's Association, she was active in church work so long as her health permitted.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Bailey is survived by two sons, Charles and Archie, of Stirling; nine grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren. She was the last survivor of the Thompson family.

The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon with service being conducted in Carmel United Church by Rev.

W. H. V. Walker, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Stirling. The church and adjoining hall were filled with relatives and friends who had come to pay their last tribute to a well-known and highly esteemed citizen. Members of the Fair Stone Cross group, of which the late Mrs. Bailey was a member, sat in a body in the church. During the service the choir rendered "Beyond the Sunset."

John Bartlett, Director of Religious Education for the Diocese of Niagara. The Bishop and Rev. Bartlett are delegates to the meetings of the Executive Council of the General Synod and the Department Boards of the Church, now assembled in Kingston.

The service was conducted by the Rector, with Rev. Bartlett taking the State Prayers. The Bishop preached a stirring sermon on the text, "Speak unto the children of Israel, that they go forward," from Exodus 14. He suggested that there is always an alternative to death ahead and slavery behind, and that Christians like the Israelites, should go forward with faith in God. He stressed the need to go forward in worship and knowledge.

A forceful and inspiring speaker, the Bishop gave a message that should be long remembered. Mrs. B. Woodbeck sang a solo, accompanied by the organist, Miss Ruth Mumby.

Legion Making Financial Drive To Complete Remodelling of Stirling Arena

Erection of Legion Hall Postponed In Favour of Effort for Skating Rink

Blitz Week Will Be September 24-29 — $3500.00 Is Required to Complete Project

Members of Stirling Legion are poised for an all-out drive to raise sufficient funds to provide the necessary facilities at the Stirling Arena for hockey and skating this coming winter. This was decided at an executive meeting of the Legion held in G. B. Noble's store on Friday night.

What Is Proposed

Ross Kirm, chairman of the building committee, submitted the following proposals to the executive:

(1) The erection of a Legion Hall be postponed for the present and all efforts directed towards putting the rink in condition for hockey and skating.

(2) Erect a one-storey frame building adjoining the south side of the present structure to provide four (4) dressing rooms (insulated), heating plant and lavatories for convenience of skaters and patrons.

(3) Complete renovation of the east end of the rink by erection of ticket offices and seating accommodation. It is estimated that a sum of three thousand five hundred dollars will be required to do this job and the Legion are appealing to citizens of Stirling and surrounding community to make this a community effort to ensure skating and hockey facilities for the boys and girls.

Work Already Done

Considerable work has already been done on the east end. The old dressing rooms, box office and balcony have been completely removed and a cement base poured, upon which bleachers will be erected from the ice surface to the top of the east wall and across the entire east end. Underneath will be the canteen, box office and heated accommodation for the general public.

The money already donated has been augmented by a great deal of voluntary labour, but is now all gone.

Canvas

Sept. 24th-29th
The canvas for funds will be in the form of a blitz week September 24th to 29th and the public will be notified as to who is calling on them and when. The urgency of this drive needs no stressing, and a speed-up of the construction work will begin immediately, so that a winter playground for the whole community may be available in good time.

In years past hockey fans throughout the area have been thrilled by the efforts of our minor hockey teams fighting their way along the play-off trail into the finals for the province. If they are to enjoy similar experiences in the future the village must have a rink, with the necessary facilities. This is a community effort and each one is asked to do his share.

Council To Proceed With Sewerage Survey

A special meeting of the Village Council was held in the Council Chambers on Tuesday night to further discuss the matter of a detailed survey for a sewerage system for the Village. Reeve R. K. West presided and Councillors Wells, Ray, Holt and Wright were in attendance.

Subsequent to an interview by a delegation from Council with Dr. A. E. Berry, general manager of the Ontario Water Resources Commission, last week, a letter had been received pointing out that if an agreement is reached between the municipality and the commission for the installation of sewerage system, the commission will be responsible for the engineering, financing, construction and operation of the project. The money necessary for this would be raised by debentures issued by the commission, and there would not be any debentures needed by the municipality. The cost of this project including capital repayment, interest, operation, maintenance, etc., would be charged to the municipality.

There was a difference of opinion among members of Council as to whether the survey to be made would include storm sewers as well as sanitary sewers, with Councillor J. V. Holt and Reeve R. K. West favouring their inclusion while other members of Council felt the more pressing need at present was for sanitary sewers and the inclusion of storm sewers was an added expense.

After a lengthy discussion it was moved by Councillor J. V. Holt and seconded by Councillor K. Ray, and carried unanimously, that Stirling Village Council inform Hisey & Barrington, consulting engineers, to proceed with the survey for sanitary sewers and disposal plant, plans and specifications to be approved by the Ontario Department of Health.

Councillor C. A. Wells gave notice of motion that at the next Council meeting he would move or cause to be moved that a bylaw be passed to engage Hisey & Barrington, Toronto, as consulting engineers.

Councillor Holt reported that crushed gravel could be procured for $1.10 per yard and council approved at least 100 yards and putting 300 yards on the streets.

Following consideration of several minor items of business, Council adjourned.

C of C Directors Met Monday

The directors of the Stirling Chamber of Commerce met on Monday night in the Council Chambers with President Don Rodgers in the chair.

Reports were heard from a number of the committee chairmen. H. E. Cooke, stated the C of C signs at the entrance to the Village had been erected, while J. B. Belshaw reported on his efforts to locate data on the early history of the village for centennial purposes. An appeal will be made to citizens to provide the committee with all available information.

Secretary D. R. Patterson outlined the steps taken towards the incorporation of the Stirling Chamber but nothing further could be done until the dissolution of the old Stirling Board of Trade, which was incorporated in 1914 and became defunct in 1938. Further action will be taken in the matter.

Splendid Programme Arranged By Directors For Annual Fall Fair

Marsh Shows To Provide Midway — Horse Races — Hold Dance Saturday Night

With the annual Fall Fair sponsored by the Stirling Agricultural Society scheduled for Friday and Saturday of this week, September 21st and 22nd, the committee in charge of the various attractions in front of the grandstand has lined up a programme for Saturday, September 30th, that should appeal to all, and indications point to it being one of the best ever seen locally.

In preparing the programme, the committee has ever kept in view that the Fair is primarily for the agriculturists of the community and has endeavoured to make it of particular interest to farmers. However, the urban dwellers have not been overlooked and there are many items that should appeal to them as well.

It is the hope of the Society that the citizens of Stirling and community will show their appreciation of the efforts put forth by the directors by giving their wholehearted support to the Fair not only with their attendance but by competing in as many events as possible.

Acknowledge Donations

The directors desire to thank the citizens of Stirling and Hastings County who by their generous donations have assisted them in arranging for the prize lists and entertainment for this year's fair.

Copies of the Prize List may be obtained from R. E. Fox, Secretary.

There will also be pony races for two classes, 11 to 14 hands and under 11 hands.

Bicycle Races

Bicycle races for the boys and girls are also on the agenda. There are three classes, half mile for boys 15 and over; 1-8 mile for boys under 15; 1-8 mile for girls under 15.

Marking the 74th anniversary in the history of Beulah United Church, Ivanhoe, special services held on Sunday, September 9th were well attended.

Rev. W. G. Fletcher, B.A., of the Rawdon Charge, was guest speaker and brought stirring and inspiring there are a great number of faithful church attendants, many have never been seized with the importance of christian worship. It was not too far for Jesus to go as was the custom to worship on the Sabbath. It was not too far for the early christians who travelled 70 to 100 miles and not on smooth, paved highways. They braved stormy seas in frail ships.

They were realizing a life's ambition. As they journeyed on their pilgrimage they sang songs of praise. It was not too far for them and it hasn't been too far for millions of christians through the centuries.

How far is it for you?
How far was it last Sunday?
How far will it be next Sunday?
The church is the house of God because it has been dedicated and is our spiritual home. Most of us have learned to worship within its walls.

Worship is not always associated with gladness. Some worship in fear, some with complete indifference. Christian people ought to be the happiest people in the world. Those who love the church go eagerly expectantly in faith, willing to attempt great things for God. "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord."

Evening Service
At the evening service Rev. George Teskey, B.A., pastor of Ivanhoe Charge, assisted. The guest speaker chose for the subject of his address, "Christ at the Door."

Behold I stand at the door and knock. This is the hope of the world. If Jesus Christ should ever give up in despair and cease knocking, there would be no hope for mankind.

Through all the varied experiences of life in success and failure, strength and weakness, happiness and sorrow, ease and difficulty, sickness and health, noise and stillness, confusion and order, through all the voices of the world and the inner voice of conscience He keeps on knocking gently but persistently. He knocks at the door of our hearts and homes, at the door of the school, and the community, at the door of the church where he is often crowded out by jealousy, quarrels and littleness of soul on the part of the members.

There are three courses we may take. We can shut our ears to His pleading; we can open the door slowly and grudgingly but Christ will not be an unwilling guest, or we can throw wide the door to our whole life and bid Him enter.

Music

The special music under the direction of the organist, Mrs. Keith Bray included in the morning a junior choir anthem, "Capture the Children for Christ" and a solo, "Said A Precious Little Laddie," by Harry Bray; evening anthem, "Praise Him Forever" and the offertory anthem, "The Lord is My Shepherd," by the Junior choir.

The Bible Today

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

When 826 languages are printed between the covers of one book, it is certain to make the "News." When that book also contains samples of over 80 alphabets, it becomes exceptionally unique. Such a book is now off the press, published by The British and Foreign Bible Society.

In "The Gospel in Many Tongues" specimens of 826 languages and dialects are each numbered and accompanied by a brief, general geographical note to enable readers to locate the language on the map. The text itself, where available, is St. John 3:16. Otherwise it is a quotation from one of the other Gospels or New Testament portion. Where the letter is used the reference is given. The publishing date of each language is another feature. The date cited usually coincides with the year the language was finally reduced to written form. Interesting indexes are included. One forms a guide to the many scripts used in the world today. Another records the word "God" in use in the majority of these 826 languages.

It is often necessary to publish the Bible in different versions in the same language in different scripts in order to meet the need of different readers. All this is illustrated in the text.

In 1804 the Bible was available in only 72 languages. No more than 35 of these could be termed "living languages" at the time. Now 1,092 have at least one book of Holy Scripture in print. Translation work continues in hundreds more.

All this illustrates the growth of a movement that began over 2000 years ago when the Jews caused their version of the Scriptures to be translated into Greek.

Ontario Diocesan Woman's Auxiliary

The Ontario Diocesan Woman's Auxiliary to the Church of England in Canada commenced its fall activities most auspiciously with a meeting in the hall of St. Mary Magdalene Church, Picton, on Monday, September 10th. Members came from many parts of the Diocese by private car or chartered bus.

Mrs. M. C. Tillotson, Diocesan Vice-President, was in the chair due to the illness of Miss Winifred Burns. Rev. R. B. Wright opened the meeting with the W.A. Litany and prayers, after which Mrs. Tillotson extended a hearty welcome to all. She paid tribute to Miss Burns and gave an encouraging report of recovery.

The reports of all officers were received and recommendations were made by each for the furthering of the year's work. The delegates to the Dominion Annual to be held in Halifax later this month are Mrs. W. F. H. Mitchell, Recording Secretary, and Mrs. E. V. Payne, Secretary-Treasurer of the Juniors.

Miss Elsie Saunders gave an informal talk on her recent trip to the west and on up to Yukon and Alaska, following in part the route taken many years ago by Dr. Grant, a former Principal of Queen's University, Kingston. She visited schools, missions and churches wherever possible and enlivened her talk with many an amusing incident. She had colored photographic cards of points of special interest, and some exhibits of Indian leather and bead work.

Mrs. Gordon Walmsley, Picton, expressed thanks for a delightful half hour. A further treat was the beautiful rendition of two solos by Mrs. R. B. Wright and her accompanist, Mrs. H. Walmsley.

Mrs. Tillotson thanked the W.A. of St. Mary Magdalene Church who had provided such a gracious welcome in flower, song and refreshment. The meeting closed with prayer.

After tea had been served Rev. Wright invited the visitors to go into the church to see its beauty. Many took advantage of this opportunity and signed the visitor's book.

Board Approves Annexation At Bancroft

Until a year or so ago a quiet community in the northern part of Hastings, the village of Bancroft, has suddenly become a boom town and by October of this year will be twice the size of Belleville.

Area-wise, that is.

For the North Hastings village is in the throes of annexation, and on October 8th will add an additional 3,940 acres to its present 320 acres. By comparison, Belleville's area is a mere 2,200 acres.

Canadian National Institute For The Blind To Hold Canvas In Stirling

During the past year the Hastings County Advisory Board to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind served one hundred and thirty-five blind citizens of Hastings County. This Board is made up of public-spirited people of the County, many of whom you may know personally. They are representing all of the people of Hastings County in their efforts to provide the sightless people of this County with the services that have been planned specially to assist them in overcoming the serious handicap of blindness. Since its formation in 1918 the Canadian National Institute for the Blind has pioneered in providing rehabilitation and other services for the blind of Canada and constant efforts are being maintained to discover new ways in which the blind can be assisted.

The blind people of Hastings County live in Belleville, Trenton, and in all of the towns and villages throughout the County, as well as in rural areas, including the extreme northern part of North Hastings. All of the blind are visited regularly by the district Field Secretaries, P. I. Timmins and R. J. Padden, so that their home conditions, problems and needs are intimately known. Miss Margaret Froese, the Institute's Home Teacher, is giving instruction to seventeen of the blind people of this County. She visits them two or three times each month, giving them instruction in handicrafts, typing and the reading of embossed type such as Moon or Braille. Handicrafts include leather work, knitting, crocheting, basketry, chair caning, etc. Many of the pupils are able to carry on with handicrafts and sell them either locally or through the C.N.I.B. Blindcraft Shop in Kingston. Not only are the blind of this County learning interesting and useful hobbies which help them to realize that there are still many things that they can do, but they are also able to augment their meagre income by selling their products.

When sight is lost the ability to read books and magazines goes with it and unless there are members of the family who have the time and willingness to spend long hours reading to the blind member, the world of books is closed. However, the C.N.I.B., through its library service, has again opened the door to the world of books. Many of the blind learn to read embossed type after receiving instruction from the Home Teacher. Once they have acquired this skill they can borrow books from the C.N.I.B. library which is well stocked with books to suit every taste. A new method of reading for the blind has been provided lately in the talking book service; books are recorded on twelve-inch long play records and the Institute library is well stocked with recorded books of all types. Both embossed type books and books on talking book records are loaned free of charge to blind people able to use them. The Hastings County Advisory Board owns sixteen talking books or record players which are loaned to those blind people who do not have access to the proper type of record player or reading machine. During the past year and up to the present, a total of twenty-one people of Hastings County use this available service.

As a rehabilitation agency the C.N.I.B. is interested in training blind people for employment and finding or providing them employment where possible. In the past a number of local blind have been trained as broom winders, machine operators and sales staff for C.N.I.B. canteens, as well as for staff positions with the Institute. During the present year two Hastings blind will be receiving such training. In addition, the Institute has, during the past year, provided employment for four of the blind of this district.

Finding suitable living accommodation has often been a major problem for elderly folk without sight. The C.N.I.B. now operates Quinte-St. Lawrence Hall in Kingston which is a residence to serve the blind of this six-county Quinte-St. Lawrence district. Six Hastings County blind are now living in residence and the majority of these have to be supplemented since their Blindness Allowance cheques of $40.00 per month are not adequate to maintain them in the residence. This monthly supplementation must come from funds raised in Hastings County for work for all of the blind of that County.

The Institute is not a relief agency but it can and does provide emergency or supplementary assistance for those in need — those who find it impossible to pay rent, buy fuel, food and clothing and meet other emergencies on their limited income of $40.00 per month.

The above are just a few of the many services which the C.N.I.B., through its Hastings County Advisory Board, extends to the one hundred and thirty-five blind people of Hastings County. We could go on to mention the service of the Pre-School Blind Child Department giving guidance to the parents of blind children, and the Institute's Eye Service Department which provides eye examinations and glasses, or treatment for those unable to provide these for themselves. Furthermore, no mention has been made of the social programme of the Institute — social clubs, picnics, Christmas parties, summer picnics, bowling etc. All of these services are available to the blind of Hastings County but sometimes they are not readily accessible because of distance.

Blindness is no respecter of persons. It comes to old and young, rich and poor, and to city and rural dweller. It is important that the Canadian National Institute for the Blind be kept strong and able to serve new cases of blindness which may develop in your own community. To maintain the services for the blind of today, and to provide needed services for the blind of tomorrow, you are asked to make a generous contribution when the voluntary canvasser calls at your home. The annual campaign for the C.N.I.B. will be held from September 24th to September 29th. The canvas is under the direction of Mrs. F. W. Houchin and is sponsored by the Hastings County Advisory Board of the C.N.I.B.

A cord of seasoned wood will give as much heat as a ton of coal, and leave about one-quarter the amount of ashes.

In 1955 the number of families in Canada increased by 90,000 while the number of new homes built in the year totalled 127,000.

St. Mark's W.A. Bonarlaw

The W.A. of St. Mark's Anglican Church, Bonarlaw, held its September meeting at the home of Mrs. G. Campbell, with a good attendance of members and one visitor present.

The meeting was opened with a hymn, followed by a litany and prayers. The Scripture Reading was read by the Rector, Rev. Fleming.

Roll call naming one use of W.A. funds in Canada was well answered. The Dorcas Secretary was absent but work allotted for the bazaar to be held in the fall will be proceeded with. Two quilts are on hand to be quilted. These will be done as soon as convenient arrangements can be made for time and place.

It was decided to suitably remember an elderly church member who is at present ill in hospital.

Mrs. Mumby gave a reading from the Canadian Churchman. A contest was held. The meeting was closed by Rev. Fleming with prayer.

Tea was served and a social time enjoyably spent.

Esteemed Ivanhoe Resident Reaches 80th Milestone

Over 60 relatives, friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Mr. Richard Reid, Ivanhoe, on Sunday, September 9th, in honour of his 80th birthday anniversary.

The rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion with baskets of multi-colored gladioli, phlox, and snapdragons. The evening was passed by the happy assembly in reminiscing about old times, as contrasted with the modern days of doing things and in community singing, with the Hagerman brothers rendering two favorite selections. One highlight of the evening, was a solo given by Mr. Hugh McMillan, a neighbor of Mr. Reid, who himself is nearing his eightieth milestone.

Mr. Reid has lived all his life in Ivanhoe, and is still hale and hearty, doing the farm work as always, often with the heavy end of it on his stalwart shoulders.

He is an avid reader, and still loves to step and square dance, many times remaining on the floor after the younger generation had given up. Besides his love of the dance, his life-long hobby has been horses, which he loves and still keeps even with an adequate supply of modern farm machinery.

Mr. Reid has one daughter, Mrs. C. K. (Edna) Keeble, of Belleville, and two sons, Milton, of Stirling, and Frank, at home in Ivanhoe. His wife died some years ago.

Mr. Reid was the recipient of many fine gifts, and good wishes for his 80th milestone.

Following the presentation of the gifts, the evening came to a close with refreshments, which included a lovely birthday cake, served by Mrs. C. K. Keeble, assisted by Mrs. Ernest Moore, of Madoc.

Equal Pay Act

The Female Employees Equal Pay Act, passed at the last session of Parliament, will come into force October 1st, the labor department announced.

The legislation provides equal pay for women doing the same work as men in industry under federal jurisdiction. About 73,000 women workers, or about one-eighth the 600,000 women engaged in industry, will benefit from the act. It applies to those working in such interprovincial or international enterprises as railways, communications, airlines, radio and banks.

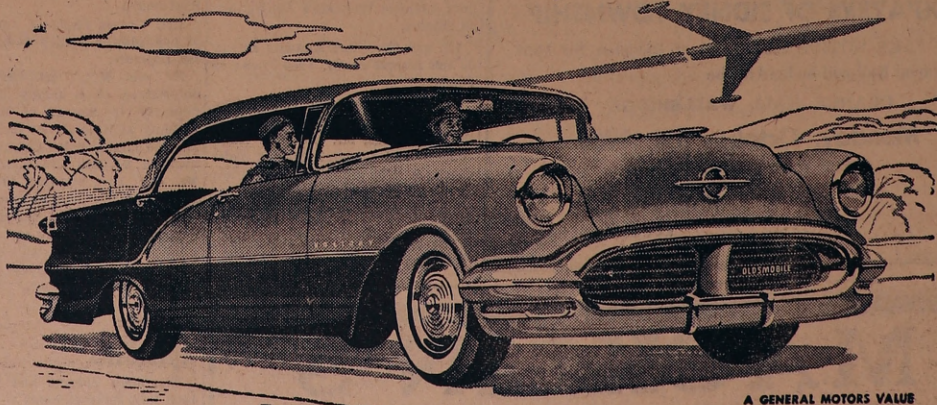

Women employed by the federal civil service — numbering about 60,000 — and female industrial workers in Ontario, Saskatchewan and British Columbia already have equal pay status.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

CHARGES "SECRET PAYMENTS"

Charles W. McInnis, President of the Ontario Hog Producers Co-operative, charged that millions of dollars are being spent to hinder a campaign by farmers to get higher prices by selling their hogs on the open market. He told the co-operative's first annual meeting that one weapon being used by packers is to offer transporters "under-table payments" if they agree to sell directly to the processor and keep hogs off the free market.

"Such practices would not be tolerated in either our political or professional life and, in fact, in very few Canadian businesses," he declared.

"May I appeal to the packinghouse industry to come clean by discontinuing payments to our transporters who evade the public market?"

Legislation Challenged

Mr. McInnis said the producers are asking the government for legislation "which will enable us to control ourselves and the trade to such an extent that we can develop a self-help programme."

Ontario legislation to help hog producers was being challenged in the Supreme Court of Canada and Mr. McInnis said the outcome may necessitate changes in the provincial legislation or possibly new federal legislation.

"Any failure to do this immediately would be disastrous, not only to the hog industry but also to 31 other commodities in Ontario."

Maintaining that the programme to sell hogs on the open market has produced good results, Mr. McInnis said:

"The price which your agency has secured for you has been much larger than in Western Canada, even above Quebec prices most of the time and far above the U.S. price. We, however, as your representatives appreciate that the price has not held a proper relationship with your costs . . . Our sales board has done a good job but definitely not the best that should have been done."

Evaded Open Market

Giving an example of "under-table payments," Mr. McInnis said one transporter complained because he received only $1.00 a hog for selling directly to the packer and evading the open market.

"Think of it," he said, "a transporter paid for transporter services by the farmer, then getting a dollar per pig for evading the open market, and dissatisfied because the back-door payment was not larger."

J. R. Kohler, manager of the co-operative, said that early in March the organization was getting $23.50 to $24 for hogs. By the first week in September the price was up to $28.50.

How To Have Fine Lawn

(Fort William Times-Journal)

There is rather an interesting point brought out in the story of a wealthy American who visited the home of a country gentleman in England and said: "Sir, I will pay you anything you like if you will reveal to me by what method such a perfect, even, level, fresh, everlasting, in short, such an English lawn as yours is made."

To which the Englishman replied: "That's quite simple. The soil must be well and deeply dug, it must be fertile and porous, not sour or sticky, not heavy or thin; then it must be well levelled so that it is like a table; after that you sow the seed and roll the ground well; then you water it daily and when the grass has grown you mow it week after week; you collect the grass with sweepers and roll the lawn; you must water, sprinkle, wet and spray it daily; and if you do this for three hundred years you will have as good a lawn as mine."

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Wallace Observe 50th Anniversary

On September 5th Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace, sixth Concession of Rawdon, quietly celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. Owing to the ill health of Mrs. Wallace no open-house celebration was held on this festive occasion.

They have one son, Howard, and one grandchild, who reside at the same home.

They are members of Wellman's United Church and Mr. Wallace has served as secretary-treasurer of the congregation for several years.

Mrs. Wallace is a member of Wellman's W.A. and that organization gave them a pair of large gold-coloured bath towels with Mr. and Mrs. John Carlisle making the presentation.

Their son and family gave them a gold-coloured chenille bedspread with floral centre.

The honoured couple were the recipients of numerous cards of congratulations, telephone calls and personal gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace were married at the Rawdon Methodist Parsonage, Front Street, Stirling, by Rev. R. A. Balfour, pastor of Rawdon Circuit, on September 5th, 1906, and enjoyed a honeymoon by train to Toronto and other points. This was a popular day for the minister as seven couples on the Rawdon Circuit chose that particular day to be married.

Mr. Wallace is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Wallace, sixth Concession of Rawdon, while Mrs. Wallace was the former Mary Lake, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Lake, who resided near Stirling in Rawdon Township.

Friends extend best wishes for happiness in future years.

Experiences At The Ontario Athletic Leadership Camp

(By Grace Clarke)

The Ontario Athletic Leadership Camp is directed by Mr. Gordon A. Wright, Director of the Physical Education Branch of the Department of Education. Miss Gladys Heintz, M.A., is the director of the course with ten Physical Education teachers as instructors. Girls attending the two-week course are chosen from High Schools as representatives to learn and teach the ideas brought out at camp.

Arrival Day

On July 14th one hundred and twenty girls, chosen from High Schools all over Ontario, arrived by train, car and bus at the Ontario Athletic Leadership Camp, Lake Couchiching. As we arrived we were put in our respective cabins with 12 girls in each of the 10 cabins. A full-length locker, a cot and blankets were provided for each girl.

At 4.00 p.m. we registered at the administration building. Here each of us received an "I" tag bearing our number on one side and our name on the other; a safe-keeping envelope which was used for extra keys, money and rail tickets; and a heavy sweat shirt to be worn at camp. Each girl was required to pay a small sum of money to cover her insurance while attending camp. After registrations we were sent to Mrs. Doreen Clark, R.N., to be inspected for diseases, athlete's foot and poison ivy.

After supper, 5.30-6.15 the Tuck Shop opened. At the Tuck Shop we could buy candy, ice cream, postcards, T-shirts and crests. This was under the direction of Mr. Joseph Krar and operated by girls who volunteered to help.

At 8.15 the flag was lowered. How proud one feels standing at attention while the bell tolls and our flag is lowered! The staff then prepared an evening programme of folk dancing, square dancing, polkas and various other group dancing. After an hour of dancing we assembled in the dining hall for a snack and the following day's instructions. Lights were out at 10.30 and all settled down to a good night's rest after a long day of travelling.

Sunday Schedule

Sundays were mostly rest days with recreational swimming and life saving in the afternoon. On Sunday, July 15th we held a non-denominational vesper service in the camp fire area. This service was conducted by girls who volunteered to help. On Sunday, July 22nd a chapel service was held in the dining hall. Sue Reed, from Hamilton, gave an inspiring message to the girls and staff members.

Daily Time Table

On Monday we were divided into groups according to our numbers. These three groups were made up of 40 girls in each. Two cabins were combined as a "section" for leader planning and discussion sessions. Throughout the two weeks we followed a daily time table as follows:

7.30 — Awakening siren
8.00 — Flag raising and singing of "O Canada."
9.10-10.00 — Option. The options were badminton, track and field, golf and tennis. Each girl had the choice of two options. The first option was taken for four days and the other option the next four days.

The Core Programme subjects, that is basketball, folk and square dancing and aquatics, rotated in three-day intervals to follow through their courses.

10.10-11.00 — Basketball
11.10-12.00 — Folk and Square Dancing
12.00-12.30 — Free period
12.30-1.15 — Dinner
1.15-1.30 — Rest period
1.30-3.00 — Aquatics
3.15-4.00 — Leader planning and organization groups.

During this period the sections discussed school matters concerning volleyball. Some of these topics were tournaments, rules and officiating, awards and point systems and the Girls' Athletic Association. Some meetings consisted of an activity period during which one section played volleyball and discussed the plays and mistakes. Also in this period each section planned an evening programme to entertain the rest of the campers.

4.15-4.45 — Recreational swimming and life saving
5.30-6.15 — Supper
7.15-8.00 — Leader planning and organization groups
8.00-8.30 — Free period

During our free period the equipment room was open so that we could get equipment for basketball, volleyball, archery, etc.

8.15 — Flag lowering
8.30-9.30 — Evening programme
9.30 — Snack
10.30 — Lights out.

Each cabin selected a cabin leader as a representative at the Leader's Council. Each cabin leader was "Leader of the Day" for one day. She raised and lowered the flag, read announcements and said Grace at mealtime.

Each person was a waitress one day. She set the table and cleaned off the dishes after the meal.

All cabins had a responsibility of "Duty Cabin" for one day. This meant that each day one cabin built the camp fire, put away dishes after snack and straightened up the dining hall. They also did any odd jobs that need to be done around the camp.

Closing Banquet

A banquet the last night brought our two weeks' enjoyment to a close. At this banquet there were Red Cross swimming awards, Royal life saving awards, song awards (best cabin song and best camp song), neatest cabin award and the presentation of honour camp crests to all the girls attending. There was also a presentation of awards to girls who are going into teaching who had exhibited highest leadership qualities while at camp. School pennants were presented to Mr. Wright on behalf of the school represented. Miss Heintz presented the Leader's Council pictures to each cabin leader and the banquet was brought to a close with the counselors singing a camp song.

After a sing-song around the 'camp-fire and the Good Night Waltz with each other we sang Taps and the camp song. This was the end of two weeks of activity, enjoyment, leadership and athletic training.

Qualifications

A person going to the Ontario Athletic Leadership Camp must be 15 years old and be one of the top 2-3 in Grade XI. She must be athletic, willing to learn and teach others and have leadership ability. Only one girl can go from each school.

I was chosen as the representative from Stirling High School. My cabin number was 6 and my tag number was 602. My options were badminton and track and field. I really enjoyed these because they were new and interesting to me. Basketball was taught thoroughly with Miss MacDonald the instructor. In swimming I achieved my Junior Red Cross award and learned much about water safety and life saving. The instructor for junior swimmers was Miss Morrison.

Evening Programme

Evening programme planning was really fun. Cabin 6 planned an evening of fun in the fieldhouse. Teams were formed from each cabin. We had a ping pong blow, balloon throw into a ring, a discus throw with paper plates, picking pebbles up with a straw and many interesting little things to do. Points were given for each event and the person with the most points received a prize.

Cabin 2 had an Indian Pow-Wow for all the campers one night. We all dressed in blankets, painted our faces and wore butternut leaves for feathers. We had a wheelbarrow race, a three-legged race, a tug of war and other Indian games. Cabin 6 won the most number of events so our cabin leader received a peace pipe made of wood and painted different colours.

Other evening entertainment included dancing, camp fire sing-songs, a fashion show, imitations of clothing and popular people of the day.

At the banquet cabin 6 received the award for the best camp song and cabin 8 received the award for the best cabin song.

The leaders were wonderful and helped us in every way possible. They also contributed in planning our various evening programmes. Miss D. Howson, from Belleville, was our leader in cabin 6.

When I return to Stirling High School I would like to organize a Girls' Athletic Association, teach and organize badminton teams, teach some folk and square dancing. I am willing to coach and teach slow learners and help my Physical Education teacher in any way I can.

"Lake Couchiching of many winds, With waters bright and clear; May we remember in our minds, The memories sweet and dear."

St. John's Church News And Notes

(By Rev. H. C. Secker)

The prayers of church people are asked for the following men who will be ordained on Friday, September 21st in the Cathedral, Kingston. Mr. John Findlater, who has been a Lay Reader for many years, and has given up his career in the Army, to be ordained Deacon, and will be the Incumbent at Frankville, Ont. The men of St. John's are invited to meet after the evening service on September 23rd. This is an important meeting and all men who have the interest of the Church at heart are asked to be present.

We are sorry that Mr. Ralph Andrews is moving to Ottawa, but wish him well in his new work. We acknowledge his good work for the church during his sojourn with us. As a small token of appreciation the men presented him with a Sheaffer pen.

The Rector is attending the Trinity College Alumni this week in Toronto.

Executive Council of Vestry meetings are scheduled for the following dates: Frankford, September 25th; Stirling, September 28th; Glen Miller, September 27th.

Harvest Festival Dates

Dates for the Harvest Festival Services are set. I am trying to get other Rectors to exchange with me on these days. October 3rd at Glen Miller; October 7th at Frankford at 11 a.m. and Stirling at 7.30 p.m. Will one or two farmers please save some corn and grain if it isn't all threshed by now.

Eggleton W.A. Annual Bazaar

The annual bazaar under the auspices of Eggleton United Church Woman's Association was held this year on Thursday afternoon, September 13th at the home of Mrs. Maurice Clancy. It was a lovely Autumn day and between 50 and 60 adults and several children were in attendance. While the guests were arriving and being seated, soft music was provided by the pianist, Mrs. Bruce Stapley.

The W. A. President, Mrs. William McMullen, presided over a short programme with opened with the hymn, "Listen The Master Beseecheth." The Scripture Lesson, Psalm 44, was read by Mrs. Warren Harlow.

The offering was gathered and dedicated with prayer by the pastor, Mr. G. Dyson. Mrs. McMullen on behalf of the W.A. members and herself welcomed the guests and voiced appreciation that so many were present.

A lovely duet, "Divine Promises," by Mr. and Mrs. Dyson was very much enjoyed. Mrs. Percy MacMullen, of Mount Pleasant, contributed a splendid reading, "A Missionary Plea." A solo, "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked," sung by Mrs. James Pollock, of Wellman's, was greatly appreciated. Mrs. McMullen thanked all those who had taken part on the programme, those who had assisted with the work of the bazaar and Mrs. Clancy for opening her home.

The hymn, "Blest Be The Tie That Binds," was sung and all joined in repeating the Mizpah Benediction. Tea was then served.

Mrs. Warren Harlow, Mrs. Clarence Fitchett, Mrs. Wm. McMullen and Mrs. Bruce Stapley served the plates, serviettes and cups of tea; Mrs. Murray Kirkey the cream and sugar; Mrs.

Danger Present Doctor Warns

"The germs of viruses which cause the communicable diseases of childhood, do not disappear. They are merely held in check, and are ever present to renew the attack," writes Dr. Collins-Williams, in the current issue of Health Magazine, official publication of the Health League of Canada.

He points out that through advances in medical science, it has been made possible to provide a happier, healthier and more certain life for countless thousands. Immunization will protect the child and consequently the adult, from diphtheria, whooping cough, smallpox and tetanus. Every child should be given this protection.

Diphtheria is a killing disease, which, while apt to attack all ages, is more likely to strike the young. Diphtheria toxoid will protect against this dread disease.

Whooping cough vaccine will protect in over 80 per cent of all children, and should be given before six months of age. More deaths are recorded from this one childhood disease than from diphtheria, smallpox, and poliomyelitis combined.

Tetanus is uncommon, but dangerous when it strikes. It usually follows a puncture of the skin from rusty nails or other causes. Continued protection is obtained by "booster" shots of the tetanus toxoid.

Triple protection can be obtained through a combined preparation, which immunizes against whooping cough, diphtheria, and tetanus.

Smallpox is almost wiped out through effective use of the smallpox vaccine, but anyone who is not vaccinated is open to its attack.

Did you know that the Northwest Territories and the Yukon Territory are together more than half the size of the United States.

Record Crowd Enjoys Fine Exhibits And Programme At Stirling Fair

Thrilling Finishes Witnessed In Trials of Speed—Gate Proceeds Show Big Increase

Favoured with fine weather Stirling Fair attracted a record attendance on Saturday last. "One of the best Fairs" was a common expression heard from the patrons and President Clarence Fitchett and his Board of Directors are to be complimented on its success.

According to figures given by R. E. Fox, Secretary-Treasurer, the proceeds at the gate were up over $400 from last year while there was a substantial profit on the draw for the car.

There were good exhibits of cattle and horses as well as sheep, swine and poultry, with the latter showing a decided improvement over other years. There was plenty of entertainment for the race lovers, including the "A" and "B" classes, Free-for-All, Pony Races and road races for the light horses.

Large Exhibit In Main Building

The main exhibit building had its usual array of produce of garden and field, home cooking that made the mouth water, and handwork ranging from large quilts to the smaller items of wearing apparel. The excellence of the farm and garden exhibits, although smaller than last year, as well as the fancy work, drew many fine compliments from fair patrons. A commercial exhibit in the main building showing television and a full range of electrical appliances by Jack's Appliance, drew much attention from the patrons.

The South Hastings 4-H Grain and Calf Clubs Achievement Day Exhibit deserved special mention and drew many favourable comments.

Cheese Show

There was an excellent showing of cheese, with some of the finest cheddar on display. Roy Huffman, Corbyville, was the sweepstake winner, with Cecil Park, Trent River; Murray Heath, Rylstone; Ross Lain, Ernest Reid, Thos. Saries and Ivan Sine being among the other exhibitors.

School Section

It was in the agricultural building that the work of the junior department stood out. There were many fine exhibits of woodworking and other shop work, as well as collections of weeds, insects, vegetables and flowers. In addition there were the regular public school classes in drawing, writing and other school work. This exhibit attracted a great deal of attention and doubtless will continue to be a regular feature of the fair.

A public address system, set up on the grounds and operated by F. DeCarroll's, Campbellford, gave splendid service and carried the announcement of all events to all parts of the ground.

The midway attractions were well patronized during the afternoon.

Havelock Pipe Band

Havelock Kiltie Band, under the leadership of Pipe Major Harry Anderson, provided the music for the afternoon and drew a big band from the crowd for their efforts. An exhibition of The Highland Fling, sword dance and Highland reels, by several girl members of the band proved entertaining.

Oldest Man

The honour of being the oldest man on the grounds went to Alex William, of Pictou.

School Parade

The school parade competition in which the Hawdon Township Schools took place, was won by S.S. No. 14. In second position was S.S. No. 17.

Pet Show

Miles McDonnell, Marie Heasman and Linda Mayhew were winners in the pet show. Ron Urch and Clare Downey won the race for small ponies, while winners for the bigger class were Ronnie Urch, first and second and Ralph Townsend, third.

Bicycle Races

The girls' bicycle race was won by Louise Harding, Stirling, with the 15-year-old and over bicycle race for boys won by Ted Cairns and Peter Keeney, and the under-15 years race by

Standard Time Back Sunday

This week-end sees clocks turned back one hour. At midnight Saturday, September 29th, Daylight Saving Time ends. Standard time will be observed this Sunday. It should be remembered that church services on Sunday will be on Standard Time, so it will be possible to "sleep in" an extra hour.

Allan Reid Winner of Car At Stirling Fair

Allan Reid, Stirling R.R. 3, was the winner of the new car in the Stirling Fair Board draw held at the Annual Fall Fair on Saturday last.

The winning ticket, number 72, was drawn by Dr. J. Russell Scott, President of the Belleville Fair, assisted by Arthur Duncan, of Batawa.

Appointed Grand Chaplain O.E.S.

Mrs. Elliott, who is a past matron of Belleville Chapter No. 65, was also appointed to the Eastern Star Training Awards Religious Leadership Committee. Her many friends throughout the district join in extending congratulations.

Jack Donnan and Paul Rollins.

Cattle Show

In the cattle show exhibitors were not as plentiful as last year but the quality was excellent. Prominent exhibitors were W. A. Petherick & Sons, Campbellford and Lorne Hagerman, of Harold, in the Holstein class; Elmer Wood, in the Ayrshires; Lorne Jarrell, Canifiton, and Peter Grant, of West Huntingdon, in the Jersey class. In the Beef breeds, Edmund Reavie, of Flinton, and A. J. Elmhurst & Sons were the main exhibitors.

Don Heath, Stirling; E. McGuire, of Crookston; Harold Harris, Madoc, and Fred McDonnell, Stirling, were exhibitors in sheep and swine.

Horse Exhibit

The horse exhibit was also particularly strong with John Sheridan and Geo. Sutherland, of Stirling; Carl Heath, of Marmora; Bill Reid, of New-Townville; M. Benedict, Belleville, and George Atkinson, of Bloomfield, being prominent in the light horse exhibitors.

In the heavy classes Wm. Thompson, Bonarlaw; Alex Moynes, of Trenton; C. Downey, Crookston; M. Benedict, Belleville; Geo. Sutherland, Stirling, and Gordon Chapman, Cooper, were prominent.

In the pony class Carmen Downey, Crookston; Ronald Urch, Belleville; J. Scott, Belleville; E. Hodgins, of Tweed, and Dave McDonald, Belleville, were prominent.

Best Lady Driver

In the contest for the best lady driver, Mrs. John Sheridan, Stirling, was first, with Miss Dorothy Benedict, Belleville, second, and Mrs. Geo. Sutherland, Stirling, third.

C. Heath, Marmora, won first and second for the quick hitch, while the prize for the best driving horse went to Geo. Sutherland, of Stirling, with Geo. Atkinson, 2nd, and J. Sheridan, 3rd.

The show ring was a centre of attraction all afternoon with the horse and pony classes as well as the school parade and Stirling Calf Club competitions proving very popular.

Mt. Pleasant W.M.S. Hear Talk On Asian Missionary Work

The postponed meeting of Mount Pleasant Woman's Missionary Society was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Carleton Potts, with 18 members and four visitors in attendance.

Mrs. Will Jeffs played the piano. Mrs. Milford Wrightman read a message on the keyword "Faith" and all sang, followed by prayer.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen gave her report. Miss Ruth Linn gathered the offering and Mrs. Will Potts dedicated it. Mrs. Ross Jeffs reported $115 remitted for six months. Invitations to visit Springbrook and Burnbrae were read.

Mrs. W. G. Fletcher gave a paper on "The Stewardship of Possessions" and stressed that these should be used for God and the benefit of fellowmen. Mrs. Burton Sharpe reported the Christmas card samples were available.

Mrs. Will Potts recorded over 40 home and hospital calls.

Mrs. Frank Jeffs read an article on "Overseas Relief." This gave a vivid picture of the millions of refugees and over 60 per cent of the clothing bales are forwarded to Korea for distribution there. The inter-church aid is greatly in need of more gifts and the local church should be willing to give its support. The president voiced thanks or hospitality and programme.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen displayed a map of southeast Asia and said it is very urgent that missionary organization across Canada study this area of the world because the people in that land are so vital to the church and good leadership is a must.

The new study book, "East From Burma," written by Constance Halloch, is a thrilling story and the word "Freedom" is the main focus. The church of Jesus Christ is rooted and growing and constantly reaching out to the hearts of men.

The study book gives the life story of seven nations. Asia is important because more than half of the people of the world live there. Mrs. MacMullen pictured the civilized Asia 5,000 years ago and referred to prayers written in the third century. She then traced history down to this generation where the Asian people are striving to have their own self-supporting and self-governing churches.

The Christian church provides people of all nations with a common meeting place for mind and spirit and it opens the way to greater understanding and friendship between the people of southeast Asia and Canada. She gave a summary of the Anglican and the Baptist work being carried on in Burma; the work of the British and Foreign Bible Society in Sarewah and Borneo and told how these various tribes are now sending missionaries to the hill tribes at their own expense. "Would people in Canada do that or are they too self-centred?"

She described the missionary work being carried on in Thailand and the Philippine Islands. The church of Christ in the islands is anxious to share the Bible with people of other countries which have never heard the good news of the Gospel.

Chapter one is entitled, "Looking at Southeast Asia" and it gives a vivid picture of the great contrast of various peoples, religions, governments and cultures. It is a land of mountains and jungles with primitive huts and elaborate carved homes. The contrast in agriculture and religion are very great and so it is hard for the missionary to carry on his great work. Languages and dialects are innumerable but they are all striving for their independence and freedom to worship and live as they choose.

Burma, the Philippines, Thailand and Indonesia are members of the United Nations. Since the war several international Christian meetings have been held and their people are constantly striving for peace in this turbulent world. The Christian life has a multitude of problems but the follower of Christ — Burmese or Filipino, Thai or Indonesian — works at them to the best of his ability knowing the Bible will furnish the answers.

Mrs. Will Jeffs presided over the programme which she had arranged. Mrs. Burton Sharpe read the Bible lesson. Mrs. Roy Thrasher gave a paper on "Faith" and led a discussion on Bible passages that referred to faith. She closed the meditation with the thought, "Faith is a belief and a trust in God which we all must have in our daily lives."

Mrs. W. G. Fletcher offered a prayer based on "Faith" and contributed a vocal selection "I Would Be True."

Miss Ruth Linn read "Aiming High," written by Miss Constance E. Wagar, missionary teacher at St. Augustine High School, Trinidad. Miss Wagar arrived in Canada by air, May 15th. She gave a picture of her work in connection with a tree-planting ceremony, graduation exercises and Trinidad girls in training groups.

Mrs. Ross Jeffs read from "Missionaries," reporting the work of Miss Beulah V. Bournes, missionary nurse at Severance Hospital, Seoul, Korea. Last October 17 girls graduated and 48 students were capped. They care for 25 unwanted babies. They also run a milk feeding station with a weekly clinic.

The service closed with the president offering a special prayer for the W.M.S. The hostess served refreshments and the women enjoyed a social time.

Below The Border

I have been asked many times, "How did you enjoy your visit to the States?"

The answer is, very much indeed. At the invitation of the Presbyterian Church, I was the speaker at a meeting chaired by a Judge of the Supreme Court. During a private conversation I ventured an answer to a similar question in these terms: "From outside, say in Canada or Europe, the U.S.A. presents a puzzled picture. It is almost overwhelming. At times you appear to be utterly immoral and unethical, the prisoners of a terrific wave of prosperity. But, when one travels in the States and meets the people we find them awfully nice, kindly and friendly; and the surprise of all is that without any coaching they are mostly interested in religion and very soon make that clear."

Journeying through the country is a joy. Those who have not yet done so, should think of doing so whenever they get the chance. A trip through the Catskill Mountains and down the Hudson River is something you should not miss.

It is amazing how freely and comfortably you may travel. It is possible to drive from the other side of Philadelphia right into New York City at 42nd and 10th Avenue in two hours, 120 miles. It is also possible to drive out the other side in a few minutes with scarcely a hold-up.

Finally, I found the Americans very interested in and very kindly disposed towards Canada.

All of which reminds me of the words of a great man who said to an enemy: "If you and I were but an hour a day together, we would be nearer to one another."

On DoingYour Homework

A Psychiatrist asked his patient what dreams she had had the night before.

"None," she replied.

"Madam," snapped the trick-cyclist, "I cannot help you if you won't do your homework."

Tail Piece

Reports tell us that Egypt's women are marching and drilling, all ready with rifle and machine gun to strafe the enemy. One can imagine the Iron Duke's comment, "I don't know what effect these women will have on the enemy, but by the Lord, they terrify me."

So this age has seen a wonderful thing. The Harem gates have opened and the "Lizzies" have emerged armed with tommy guns.

Friends Gather To Honour Young Couple

Wednesday evening of last week 100 people gathered in Mount Pleasant Church Hall in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnson on their recent marriage. A large basket of gladioli was used as a central decoration.

It paid tribute to the leadership given by Ralph as Y.P.U. president and welcomed Ruby to the community. The address was signed by Messrs. Harold White, Frances Wrightman, Harold Rowe, Mac Sharp and Robert Hoard.

On behalf of the communities of Mount Pleasant and Hoard's Station, Mr. Dick Knapton made the presentation of a lazy boy chair in wine brocade, a pair of pillow cases and a bedspread.

The recipients both spoke briefly, expressing thanks for the kindness and gifts. They invited their friends to visit them in their home. All sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," after which refreshments were served and a social half hour enjoyed.

Ninety percent of the forest fires occurring in Ontario are started by careless human hands. Failure to extinguish camp fires, cigarette butts and matches are the main causes.

More forest fires were reported by an alert public this year than by any other single detection agency.

W.A. Fall Rally

The speaker divided her subject into seven distinct parts with each the mastery of habit or emotion that should go to make up the personnel of our church women who work for the cause and advancement of Jesus Christ. She said, "We are launching today on a pilgrimage." One organization for all women in our church was adopted at the General Council meeting. We must prepare ourselves to be ready. We must enlist in the total programme of the church. The total mission of the church demands a vision of the future and we will be proud to say we have a part in that future.

The president in her remarks reported that the second Presbytery had organized into rallies. She expressed gratitude of the executive to the hostess church, the special speaker and to all who helped make the day with its aim to promote "The Practical Side of the W.A." a success.

The music included suitable hymns and a vocal solo by Mrs. A. A. Drummond, "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains," by F. Harker, with the accompaniment played by Miss Osborne, of Bowmanville.

STIRLING'S TAG DAY FOR THE BLIND Saturday, Sept. 29th

BE THANKFUL FOR YOUR OWN PRECIOUS
SIGHT AND GIVE GENEROUSLY

We heard an interesting phrase the other day to do with bringing up children. It was "intelligent neglect." In other words, a lot of us tend to fuss too much over our children. Kids develop best if they have to rely on their own resources, work out problems for themselves. So don't keep them tied to your apron strings. Let them wander off by themselves, leave them to themselves, sometimes even to get into some trouble or come back with a bruise or cut. It's all part of the lesson of growing up.

With the do-it-yourself trend growing by leaps and bounds, tool care is more and more important. Don't use gasoline or solvents for cleaning if you want to prevent corrosion and rust. Clean tools in 4 ounces of No. 10 engine oil mixed with 1 quart of kerosene, then wipe with a dry cloth. The kerosene dissolves grease, the oil provides an air-proof coating that prevents rust.

And talking about the workshop and basement, how often have you dropped something that's rolled under a bench or into a dark corner and been almost impossible to find. Much better than burning your fingers with countless matches is having a flashlight handy. There should be one in every house anyway as a safety precaution in case of power failure and such.

Here's a good tip for you cooks. If you're going to cut marshmallows, put them in the freezer first until they're partly frozen. Then they won't stick to the scissors. Much less gooey!

And if you've been plagued by putting either too much or too little dressing on your salads, you can distribute thin dressing uniformly over a salad by using a dime store clothes sprinkler.

Have you heard about the wonderful, new portable radio that gets its power from the sun? Sounds like science fiction? Well, it's on the market now. A special sun-power pack turns the sun's rays into electricity. Indoors or at night the radio plays for 700 hours on 6 "Eveready" flashlight batteries. It's tubeless, too. Works on transistors. Miracles will never cease.

If you want to get a really good shine on your furniture, try using one of the hard-finish waxes of the type used for automobiles. They give a moisture-resistant protective coating that really lasts.

Spinach with a flair: When seasoning chopped, cooked spinach, add a dash of nutmeg. For garnish in the dish, press hard-boiled egg yolk through a sieve in a golden drift. Looks delicious. Is delicious.

Faulkner -- Putnam Nuptials At Kingston

Morgan Memorial Chapel at Queen's University, Kingston, was the scene of a wedding on Saturday, September 15th when Patricia Diane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Putnam, of Belleville, became the bride of James Milton Faulkner, Stirling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard Faulkner. The officiating minister was the Rev. A. M. Laverty, Kingston. Standards of white and yellow gladioli decorated the chapel.

Organ music was played by Miss Hazel Smith, cousin of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a cocktail-length dress of pale aqua imported peau de sole on princess lines. Her headress was a white lace bandeau with shoulder-length veil. Small snowdrift mums and stephanotis made up the bridal bouquet.

Mrs. W. J. Bethune, Peterborough, matron of honor, was gownned in a cocktail-length princess style dress of deep aqua silk taffeta with matching shoes and veil.

Dr. Malcolm Murray, Martin Town, Ont., was groomsman. Ross Faulkner, brother of the bridegroom, was usher.

Reception was held at Glenarden Manor, Kingston. The bride's table was decorated with centre panels of gladioli. The bride's mother, attired in a dress of dusty rose lace over taffeta with a cummerbund of matching taffeta, dusty rose velvet hat, matching blue shoes and gloves, received the guests. She wore a corsage of Talisman roses. The bridegroom's mother assisted, wearing a powder blue dress with pale pink design and navy accessories. Her corsage was white carnations.

For travelling the bride chose a dressmaker suit of brown flecked wool with contrasting accessories of spiced pumpkin shade and a white gardenia corsage.

The couple will live in Trenton.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

FREE HEALTH SERVICE

I have been participating in a free health service and I feel pretty good.

It works this way. You pay no premiums, and there are no taxes deducted from your pay cheque. The only requirement is a willingness to do a few things for yourself. Here's how I gained by membership in the free health service clinic.

I took a 7-day holiday, and I devoted it to health. I went to bed early, rose early, limited my coffee and cigarette intake, drank plenty of good, fresh water, ate moderately, swam a great deal, sat in the sun, laughed, walked, and worried not at all.

Results? Well, my stomach flattened out and the muscles feel firm. I've a nice tan, which makes me look healthier, so I get a lift when I look in the mirror in the morning. The daily walk improved my wind; the swimming relaxed me; the sun provided vitamins; the laughter and fun was a tonic. At night I am pleasantly tired and sleep soundly.

I firmly believe that any person able to walk around can be healthy if he has a mind to be healthy. Water, sun, exercise, good spirits diligently cultivated, decent food and moderation can do more for you in a week than doctors, for all their skill, can do in a month.

Now I'm trying to convince myself that I need not take a holiday to get healthy. There is no reason why I should smoke too much, or slug coffee into me, or overeat any time of the year. Sunshine is nearly always available, and exercise can be fun if approached in the proper spirit.

About nine out of ten folks, judging by my friends, devote virtually no thought or effort to their health. Indeed, they spend money on just about everything but health . . . and then grouse when sickness catches up with them. It seems to me that government health schemes will never work out until we have a few more people with personal health plans.

How're you feeling? What are you doing to make yourself feel better? Try walking more, breathing deeply, eating slowly, and getting out in the sun whenever you can. My bet is that within two weeks you can have a new sparkle in your eye. Try it and see!

Municipalities Should Organize

After ten months campaign to cut the traffic toll in this province Attorney General A. Kelso Roberts could report some considerable progress recently. Fatalities on provincial highways were reduced during this period by 14 per cent as compared with the same period in 1955.

This is substantial achievement, but, as the Attorney General, himself, pointed out, the death toll is still high. Nearly two persons are killed every day on provincial highways; another dies on the roadway of a city or town in the same period. "On the average one able bodied person dies on the roads of Ontario by violent means every eight hour working shift," he said.

The Attorney General's Department, Provincial Police, the Department of Highways and such organizations as the Ontario Safety League have been, and are continuing to promote the kind of driving that will reduce highway accidents. The police have, and will continue to curb the kind of driving that ends in a death. These efforts are making the progress noted on provincial highways. But what about local traffic fatalities?

Frequently the victim of motor mayhem on local streets is a pedestrian and too often the victim is a child. To cope with this local traffic toll in Ontario cities and towns, the Attorney General has stressed: "We are particularly interested in formation of local safety councils and in the maintenance of these local safety councils at a high standard of efficiency. They are not only very worthwhile, they are essential to a fully successful traffic safety drive."

Ontario has 970 municipalities — cities, towns and villages where traffic safety is of concern. "We would get at the root of this safety problem," says Attorney General Roberts, "if every solitary municipality organized a safety council, put at its head a responsible citizen aware of the problems, and determined to solve them at the local level."

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

CARE SHOULD BE EXERCISED IN HARVESTING POTATOES

This year Ontario potato growers will harvest a crop of unusually high quality potatoes when digging and storing of the main crop gets underway in late September and early October, according to the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

At one time Ontario farmers grew more than one hundred and eighty thousand acres of potatoes, but in recent years acreage has been cut more than two-thirds in spite of the fact that the population has more than doubled in the same period. Lately, however, Ontario growers have become more conscious of quality, with the result that 32 per cent of all dollars from sales of potatoes in Canada last year went to Ontario growers.

Ontario growers have been favored this year with cool, moist weather, making ideal conditions for growth, with the result that potatoes are particularly high in dry matter, well sized, and mature. They are also comparatively free from surface scab, insect damage and blight.

In order to avoid losses and complaints from late blight infection, potato vines should have been killed by chemicals by this time. Digging should not be started for at least two weeks after the tops are completely dead to ensure that blight spores do not come in contact with the tubers. This method will also improve quality by avoiding excessive feathering and bruising.

When harvesting potatoes the following precautions should be observed:

1. Use agitators on diggers only when necessary.
2. Shield the end of the digger chain with belting.
3. Cover the links with rubber tubing.
4. Operate the digger at not more than 1½ miles per hour (132 feet per minute).
5. Insist on careful picking and handling.
6. Load trucks carefully and cover with tarpaulins to prevent damage from wind.

PROVINCE TO ASSUME COST OF BRUCELLOSIS VACCINATION UNDER NEW LEGISLATION

Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Agriculture, has announced the announcement of another forward step in the fight against Brucellosis, or contagious abortion, in cattle. Brucellosis has been causing heavy losses in the cattle population. In addition the infection may cause undulant fever in humans.

Mr. Goodfellow said that the Brucellosis Act, passed at the last session of the legislature, would come into effect on October 1st. Under its provisions the 24 townships in which bylaws were passed under the Brucellosis Control Act, 1953 will be designated supervised areas. Included in this number are all townships in the counties of Brant, Bruce, Dundas, Durham, Grey, Haldimand, Oxford, Peel, Prince Edward and York.

Other townships may be added from time to time, but before any township can become a supervised area at least two-thirds of the cattle owners must sign petitions favoring the adoption of a compulsory calfhood vaccination programme, an action which has been taken by the cattle owners in the townships that have been designated supervised areas.

Under the plan the cost of vaccination in supervised areas will be borne by the Province of Ontario. As in the past the vaccine will be supplied by the Canada Department of Agriculture. In order to facilitate operations every practicing veterinarian will be given an opportunity of entering into an agreement with the Minister. If all practitioners take advantage of this offer as expected, each cattle owner in a supervised area will be able to get his female calves vaccinated at no direct cost to himself by the veterinarian of his own choosing.

The plan will be administered by the Live Stock Commissioner, W. P. Watson and his assistant Dr. Harold Worton, the Provincial Veterinarian.

"During recent years Ontario has made significant progress in reducing the incidence of Brucellosis as evidenced by the fact that 244,924 calves were vaccinated in 1955," stated Mr. Goodfellow. "However, the fight must go on at an increased rate, not only because of the economic loss which the disease is causing at home, but to preserve our export markets as well. Last year Canada exported 41,691 head of pure bred and grade cattle for breeding purposes, almost 85 per cent of which originated in Ontario. The majority went to United States, a market which can only be retained if we have animals that are free from disease, and particularly Brucellosis."

WEED OF THE WEEK

WEED SEEDS TERRIFIC TRAVELLERS

Nature, in her unceasing effort to create new life, has many ways of spreading seeds — weed seeds as well as those of wanted vegetation, says the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Many seeds, such as those of the common dandelion are equipped with a tiny parachute which enables them to be carried long distances by the wind. Sow thistle, goat's beard, prickly lettuce and Canada thistle are other examples of plants whose seeds are scattered by the wind. Some plants such as twitch grass, tumbling mustard or tumble weed break off at the root when mature and roll across the countryside at the whim of every wind, releasing their seeds as they go. Then there is the maple key which is equipped with two aeroplane wings on which it travels long distances on a windy day.

Many plants use water as a means of travel and the seeds of such weeds as the docks, chicory and ragweed are carried far afield by streams and spring freshets.

Some plants are hitchhikers, attaching themselves by hooklike appendages to the fur and hair of animals, the clothing of humans and to moving vehicles. This type of weed includes burdock, hound's tongue, the stickseed and wild carrot. Birds also aid nature in her work of distributing seeds.

Most of our common weeds are of European origin. In the early days of settlement in Canada they were brought here as impurities in seed, in straw used for packing or, in some cases, as ornamental or garden plants. Now they are scattered across the country in shipments of milling wheat and feed grains. Roots and seeds are scattered in cultivation and harvesting operations, and most serious of all, far too many weed seeds are actually seeded into the soil as impurities in poorly cleaned or uncleaned seed grain and grass seed.

BROOKLIN AREA BUSY PREPARING FOR INTERNATIONAL

Usually a relatively quiet section of rural Ontario the vicinity of Brooklin, Ontario, is humming with activity these days in preparation for the forthcoming International Plowing Match which takes place October 9th to 12th.

Already there are visible signs of the great event which will see a "city" of thousands of people enjoy a brief span of humming activity over the four-day period.

Working at full speed the local hydro commission is erecting the poles and stringing the necessary wire to service the area. Telephone communications are being set up in readiness for the opening day.

Officials of the Ontario Plowmen's Association report that a heavy number of entries have been received from plowmen for the various events and that the number of exhibitors will exceed previous years. A plan of the lay-out of the grounds will be available for distribution next week.

Ontario plowmen will face a challenge from two Manitoba plowmen this year in the persons of Cecil Heynes, Emmerson, Manitoba, and Arthur Tomlin, Portage la Prairie. In addition, greater representation from Northern Ontario is expected. The Port Arthur Chamber of Commerce is making a grant to the winner of the local State Valley Plowing Match to assist him in competing at the International. Other contestants from Algoma and other northern districts will provide competition for the plowmen from old Ontario.

Indicating interest on the part of the future farmers of Ontario the Association reports that entries in the Inter-County school class and Secondary school classes are exceptionally heavy.

The big event will get under way on October 9th when Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Agriculture, officially opens the Match.

CLEAN ENGINE AIR

An engine which breathes dirt will wear out much faster than it normally should. Dirt acts as an abrasive causing moving parts to wear rapidly. There are case histories of engines which have worn out after a week of work as a result of dirt getting into the air used by the tractor.

There are three ways for the dirt to get into the engine — with the fuel, the lubricating oil and with the air.

Ordinary care will keep dust out of the fuel and oil, but to keep the air that the engine breathes dust-free, requires more attention.

Engines may be equipped with an oil wetted or an oil bath-type cleaner. Either of these cleaners is designed to take 99 per cent of the particles of dirt out of the air when operated at highest efficiency. Efficiency can drop as low as 50 per cent with poor maintenance. An air cleaner is thus of little value unless it is properly cared for.

Service the air cleaner frequently. The service interval can be determined by the dust conditions under which the engine operates. If conditions are extremely dusty, the interval should not be greater than 10 hours. Never, under any circumstances, allow the cleaner to be unserviced beyond an oil change. Check all cleaner and carburetor connections. These must be tight to keep the dirt out of the cleaned air. Supplying the engine with clean air pays off in reduced maintenance costs.

GOOD LUNCH PACKS PUNCH

"Pack a lunch that packs a punch!" is advice well worth heeding. The noon lunch, eaten at home or away, should be the all-important booster meal that carries you through each busy day.

Lunch box meals may be planned in courses, just like other main meals. What could be simpler than following the traditional pattern: first, an appetizer, next a main course, accompanied by a bread course, next a salad, with dessert and beverage last. And the best news of all comes when you learn that your packed lunch, planned in familiar courses, is well balanced nutritionwise too!

The appetizer course may be tangy tomato or fruit juice or a crisp, raw vegetable. The main course usually is high protein meat, fish, poultry, eggs or cheese, in carry-easy sandwich filling form. Bread accompaniment can be the fresh slices of enriched white, whole wheat or rye bread in the sandwich itself, or buns, rolls or muffins for welcome variety. The salad course may consist of a plump red tomato, to be eaten out of hand, or a variety of salad greens, crisp and cool in a handy plastic carton. For dessert there's a choice of seasonal tree-ripe fruits, washed and ready for nibbling, plus any number of appetizing sweet-tooth-satisfying cookies, cakes or fruit breads.

Beverage for school children and teenagers (and adults too, if they wish) should be milk. Variety is the spice of interest in lunches too, and a shift from "just plain" milk to milk soup or a milk dessert, will be welcome. Thermos hot tea or coffee will complete the meal for thirsty adults.

There you have it — a lunch that goes with you for noon-time replenishing of the nutrition and energy you need for afternoon efficiency and enjoyment. Yours will be a lunch that packs a punch, if it's carefully planned in traditional "meal by courses" style.

The Bible Today

(By Rev. C. R. Rudoy)

An exciting display of rare and famous Bible is currently exhibited in Toronto. The history of typography through five hundred years is graphically portrayed in an Exhibition in the Royal Ontario Museum. Generally described as "the art of fine printing through five centuries and its influence upon the Bible in print," the exhibition was launched in co-operation with the graphic arts industry to commemorate the five hundredth anniversary of the printing of the 42 line "Gutenberg" Bible. Two pages of this first edition — one of the rarest books in the world — are shown. There were 1,282 pages in the complete book.

Dr. A. D. Tushingham, head of the Museum's archeology department had been the master mind behind the exhibition. Many months were required to gather together such volumes as "the poor man's Bible" of 1491 A.D.; a 1534 A.D. edition of "The New Testament" diligently corrected and compared with the Greek of William Tyndale, in which no versification appears; Martin Luther's last revised translation of 1548 A.D.; a copy of the first King James Bible; and one of the limited editions of 25 copies of the Coronation Bible of 1953. In all 70 such volumes have been gathered together for display.

Today, throughout the civilized world, both the Bible and printing are taken for granted. It is not so long ago that Tyndale was burned at the stake in an effort to give the Bible to the common people. Though the ages, the Bible and printing have been bound up with the struggles for freedom of conscience and national independence.

The display runs only until October 13th.

If I Owed You Two Dollars and A Half

For a year or more and made no effort to "settle up," you would make every effort to collect the two-and-a-half spot whether it made me "mad" or not, wouldn't you? And you would not be anxious to sell me anything more until I had arranged payment. Then suppose that in addition to me, Smith and Jones and Brown, and Whosis owed you each $2.50. Including my debt that makes $12.50 coming to you, and no one paying, each one of your debtors saying: "Why it's only $2.50, what's the hurry?" — but when the $2.50 is multiplied 5 times it's $12.50, and when it's multiplied by hundreds it's a lot of money."

Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. A. E. Baker, of Toronto, assisted by the Rev. E. V. C. Lewis, of Queensboro.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. A. E. Baker at the organ, and Mr. Thomas Moorcroft, brother of the bride, sang "The Wedding Prayer" before the ceremony and "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown styled
